Judge's Ruling Delays Showdown On Ohio's Highway Tax

COLUMBUS (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds today granted a temporary injunction halting Ohio plans to cancel motor vehicle reciprocity pacts with Michigan, Illinois, West Virginia and Indiana.

The judge also ordered previously cancelled pacts with 10 other states put back into effect. A final decision in the case may be made in a few days.

Before the judge's ruling the dispute over Ohio's stand on reciprocity was growing more bitter by the hour.

An official of Illinois says his state soon may have "no other choice" but to force Ohio motorists to buy Illinois licenses when they travel through the Prairie State. And Michigan officials say they are ready to force Ohio truckers to buy Wolverine State license plates.

John H. McCarthy, chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission and of the Michigan Reciprocity Board, said he had heard nothing from Ohio authorities to indicate they were willing to extend the 20-year-old agreement beyond the deadline. It expires tonight at midnight.

Ohio has served notice she will cancel the aggrement unless, Michigan consents to an amendment permitting Ohio to collect its axle-mile tax from Michigan trucks in transit through Ohio. Michigan has refused.

Michigan, McCarthy said, is prepared to demand the registration (License) fee from Ohio trucks as soon as the treaty expires.

But Ohio officials said regardless of what other states do, Ohio will not retaliate on out-of-state automobile drivers.

The Illinois official, W. B. Westbrook, chief clerk of the automobile division, and the Ohioans, Frank M. Quinn, chief of the motor transport division, state utilities commission, and U. C. Felty, Ohio highway safety director, spoke yesterday at a meeting in Rockland, Maine.

Westbrook told a panel at the annual conference of the American Assn. of Motor Vehicles Administrators that if the Ohio-Illinois reciprocity pact is discontinued, Illinois will not recognize any type of Ohio license plate.

"However," Westbrook added, "Illinois will not make any move in the matter until Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche has an opportunity to confer with Illinois officials on a new agreement."

Ohio had ordered motor vehicle reciprocity pacts cancelled with 20 states unless the agreements were revised to exclude Ohio's controversial axle - mile tax, a levy on big trucks for use of the state's highways.

Three states, including Illinois, were given extra time to agree to the pact amendments. Gov. Lausche subsequently asked Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton to extend the Sept. 24 deadline pending conferences Monday between the two states. Stratton agreed, Illinois officials said.

Quinn told the conference that regardless of what Illinois does, the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, which also imposes some taxes on trucks using the state's highways, will not retaliate.

Felty, who also is an Ohio Reciprocity Board member, reiterated the board's previous stand "that Ohio will not engage in any retaliation by imposing license plate registration on any vehicle of Illinois."

He said the board's position was supported by Gov. Lausche.

The safety director said he was "surprised and stunned that any other states would think of exercising such utter disregard for the rights of its citizens by exposing them to possible retaliation.

"Ohio stands ready to continue full and complete reciprocity, including the axle tax which is applicable to all commercial vehicles including those of Ohio of three axles or more."

He said Ohio truckers have contributed 70 per cent of axle tax revenues.

The tax, in effect the last 18 months, ranges from one - half to 2½ cents a mile on some trucks for use of Ohio highways.

"Ohio feels that with its highways being the connecting link between east and west, out-of-state truckers using the highways should be willing to help the Ohio taxpayers maintain them," Quinn said.

The Ohio Supreme Court recently held the tax "unlawful" as applied to Michigan truckers because it was covered by a 1937 Ohio-Michigan reciprocity agreement. Ohio, having similar agreements with other states, then ordered all pacts cancelled in 30 days unless they were amended to exclude the axle tax.

Pacts with 13 states were cancelled Sept. 9. Michigan, Illinois and West Virginia were the three states given extra time to make their decision. Three other states agreed to the amendment. And the Indiana pact cannot be canceled until Oct. 9.

BULGANIN SAID GIVING OK TO IKE'S BLUEPRINT PLAN

Polio Serum For Second Round Available First Week In October

Pickaway County and Circleville boards of health are making plans for the second round of Salk polio vaccine shots, to be given here the first week in October.

A memorandum from Dr. Ralph Dwork, director of the Ohio Department of Health, states that the serum "will be available on Oct. 3 and 4." This only applies to those children who received the first shot here and does not include those who have not had any Salk vaccine inoculations.

Both county and city health boards here point out that parents will have to sign approval again for the second shots, just as they did for the first ones. Cards are being sent to all parents now whose children are eligible for the second inoculations.

Dr. Dwork explained the reason for again getting parents' permission for the shots as follows:

* * *

". . . . A LEGAL question has been raised as to the validity of the first parental request form for this second inoculation. . . . it is also conceivable that some parents may have changed their minds since Spring (when the first shots were given)."

There were no cases of polio reported in this area this year, according to reports from the county and city health boards.

The second shot will be the only other free one provided by the state health department, Dr. Dwork pointed out. The third one must be taken at the expense of the parents, he explained.

Dr. Dwork requested that the second inoculation be given before next Dec. 15 "because this vaccine has a definite expiration date and cannot be replaced . . . . . all phases of this program should be completed before January 1956."

Each health commissioner will be provided with enough serum for second round shots to those first and second graders who received their first inoculations last Spring, Dr. Dwork went on to say. Those same children will now, with a few exceptions, be second and third graders, he added, and they will be the only ones eligible for this second doses of the vaccine.

Hunt Widens For Kidnaper In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The growing search for kidnaped Robert Marcus centered again today in San Jose, Calif., after spreading briefly last night across the nation to Atlantic City, N. J.

Hopes rose briefly that a week-old boy found abandoned in a church in Atlantic City might be the son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus. Robert was snatched from the nursery in Mt. Zion Hospital here Monday when only 2 days old.

Dr. Marcus and his 29-year-old wife Hanna studied an Associated Press Wirephoto of the Atlantic City baby and said:

"He is not our son."

A final check of footprints of the two infants will be made by the FBI in Washington today.

Meanwhile, 1,000 or more persons — police, firemen, civil defense workers and college students —started a house-by-house search of the Willow Glen district of San Jose, 50 miles south of here.

A husky blonde woman with a baby has been seen there in the last two days, but never detained for questioning.

An untidy, buxom blonde, presumably with a mother complex, 35 to 40 years old and 130-140 pounds, is sought. Such a woman was seen at the nursery just before the snatch.

A hoax ransom note, demanding $5,000, entered the case yesterday and promptly brought the FBI into the search. Police branded it the work of a crank.

Water Well Yields High Grade Gas

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Free—all the gasoline you can drink.

That's the situation in which the C. A. Webb family finds itself. Webb's private water well is producing almost pure gasoline.

Webb says he believes the gasoline is escaping from an oil field pipeline and seeping into the well. But he hasn't been able to find the source.

The gasoline showed up in the water Aug. 4, Webb said. It increased to the point where water drawn through faucets would burn when ignited.

Berserk Tar Terrorizes Bus Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A knife-wielding sailor terrorized a bus driver and his 28 other passengers yesterday on a 20-mile ride along the Pennsylvania Turnpike before the driver grabbed a fire ax and subdued him.

The sailor, Robert L. Jones, 23, of Washington, D. C., was held without charge today by police pending action by the Navy.

The driver, W. E. Small, 50, of Hyatsville, Md., and four of his passengers required treatment for shock.

Officers gave this version:

A short time after the Washington-bound bus had left Pittsburgh, Jones went berserk, shouting that a woman passenger had told him he took her seat. He ran behind Small's seat, pulled a switchblade knife and pressed the point of it against the throat of the driver.

"Keep going," he roared.

Finally, Jones ordered Small to pull the bus into the driveway of a restaurant. When the bus stopped, Jones forced the passengers to leave. As they hastily complied Small grabbed the fire ax, swung menacingly at Jones and cowed the sailor.

State police arrived soon afterwards and took Jones into custody. Jones was reported to have been serving as a cook aboard the USS Wasp, an aircraft carrier.

Gen. Lonardi Sworn In As Argentine Chief

Successor To Peron Makes Gala Entry Into Capital City

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, victorious chief of the rebellion which overthrew Juan D. Peron, took the oath of office as Argentina's provisional president today.

He was sworn in at Government House, where Peron reigned for a decade, only a short time after making a triumphal entry into the capital.

The revolution leader's entry into Buenos Aires was preceded by an order from the provisional government for the arrest of all Peron supporters in the national Congress. Earlier, the new regime had dissolved the Congress, in which Peronista party members held all 34 Senate seats and all but 12 places in the 155-member lower house.

Violence flared here and in Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, as students and other foes of the ousted dictator moved to eradicate evidences of Peron's power.

STREET FIGHTS occurred throughout Buenos Aires yesterday despite efforts of armed patrols to keep crowds from gathering. Several Peronista party buildings were wrecked. Pictures and busts of Peron and his late wife Eva were destroyed.

The arrest of Peronista congressmen was said to be for "investigation" and not as a retaliatory move. It was regarded as one of the strongest measures by the new government to ward off possible trouble from disgruntled Peron supporters.

Final two days of the meet will include tours taking in Scioto River Valley farms, roadside parks in southern Ohio, historical spots in Chillicothe and Zaleski Forest.

Ag Experts Say Farm Price Level To Hold Steady Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department economists predicted today that the general level of farm prices will decline little if any more on this year's crops.

Farm prices now average about 6 per cent below a year ago. Democratic leaders have sharply criticized the Eisenhower administration for the price setbacks, saying present farm programs are inadequate.

In a monthly report on the demand and supply situation for farm products, the department's marketing service said that seasonal price declines may occur for some commodities But it said, "Much of the general price adjustment to increased supplies this season have already taken place."

Price drops this year, the report added, largely reflect market reactions to prospects of a record output of agricultural goods.

In a separate report yesterday, the Federal Reserve Board's monthly bulletin blamed the declins on big crops in recent years, overhanging surpluses owned by the government and on the cutback in federal price support rates for this season's grain harvest.

But despite a decrease in farm income "the general financial position of farmers remains relatively strong," the report added.

The two reports were made public as the National Agricultural Advisory Commission prepared to wind up a two-day conference today on what steps, if any, it believes the administration should take to bolster farm income.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has asked the 18-member bipartisan commission, appointed by President Eisenhower in 1953, for its ideas on what the government might do to put more money into farmers' pockets during the period of declining prices and downward adjustments in production from the high postwar levels.

After yesterday's closed commission meeting, a Benson aide said it appeared necessary to "buy time" with some temporary farm assistance program until the administration's new flexible price support system has taken hold.

One major proposal under consideration was that the government pay farmers to take surplus land out of crop production until price - depressing surpluses have been reduced.

The marketing service report noted crops this year appear likely to be the second largest of record, while livestock production is expected to put the combined output of all farm commodities about 3 per cent above the record volume produced last year.

Good Football In Store Here

If the rains hold off long enough, there will be some exciting football for Pickaway County fans Friday and Saturday night.

Tonight, Circleville High school's Tigers take on tough Linden McKinley. Last year in Columbus, CHS took it on the chin 30 to 13.

Last week, Linden downed Washington C. H. 25 to 7 while CHS blanked Athens 19 to 0. Kickoff time is 8 p. m. and this is Parents Night, the famous annual event here for the "moms" and "dads".

Saturday night at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds, six-man football enters its second week of play. One of the best games appears to be the one between Ashville and Pickaway, two of the top teams.

Kickoff time at the Fairgrounds is 6:30 p. m.

Vaden Couch Is Transferred By Purina Firm

Vaden Couch, who for 12 years has been manager of the local Ralston Purina plant, has been transferred to Iowa Falls, Ia., where he will serve as manager of the Ralston Purina holdings. The Iowa Falls plant is similar to the one here except for a much larger capacity for the processing of soy beans. It handles up to 4,000,000 bushels of beans a year.

Succeeding to the local managership will be Larry Varble, a 20-year man with R. P. and who has been serving as assistant manager of the R. P. factory installation in St. Louis.

He will arrive here in mid-October and will assume full duties the first of the year. Couch will assume his new post January 1.

Couch, who is married and the father of a son, Ellis, is a member of the Rotary, the Chamber of Commerce and the Methodist church. He is resigning as a member of the Methodist finance committee and as district chairman of the Boy Scouts.

He also has played an important role on the committee that stages the annual Recognition Day and barbecue for 4-H and FFA members.

Ohio University Enrollment Booms

ATHENS (AP)—Robert E. Mahn, registrar at Ohio University, said today enrollment is expected to reach a record.

Mahn said 6,010 students enrolled at the University yesterday and late registration this week "should boost the total over 6,100."

The 6,100 figure would set a new mark for the institution, eclipsing the 1948 record of 5,611.

New Marion School To Open Early

COLUMBUS (AP) — Crowded Ohio prisons have forced an early opening of the partially remodeled penal institution at Marion. Construction work still continues.

Commissioner of Correction M. C. Koblentz said first transfers to the Marion unit are expected early next month. Now known as the Marion Training School, it will be called the Marion Correctional Institution effective Oct. 1.

Koblentz said the $10 million program at Marion was the biggest Ohio prison construction in 30 years. He said the new units will be utilized by a "select type of trainable inmate."

Three major shops will be included on the grounds for training in sheet metal work, furniture building and tailoring.

At the present time, Koblentz said, Ohio prisons are overpopulated by 1,600. He listed total population this week at 10,480. And, he added, pressure will increase with fall terms of courts opening.

Formerly an institution for juvenile offenders, the Marion unit was taken over by the department of correction in 1950. It is listed as a medium security prison, but Koblentz said there'll be "no feather bedding" for the inmates.

Koblentz said the present schedule calls for 25 inmates a week to be transferred to Marion, mostly from Ohio Penitentiary. By Jan. 1, up to 500 inmates should be occupying the first section of buildings. This includes 10 dormitories, each housing 64 men.

Soviet Premier Adds Demand For Arms Cut

Eisenhower To Release Letter Soon, Followed Up By His Own Reply

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin is reported to have told President Eisenhower that if the Eisenhower plan for mutual aerial inspection and exchange of military blueprints is to be adopted it must be as part of a general disarmament plan.

The gist of Bulganin's personal message to Eisenhower came out last night and preparations were underway today to make public the text from the President's vacation headquarters.

It was learned in Washington that Bulganin also told Eisenhower the proposed disarmament program should provide for prompt renunciation and abolition of all atomic weapons.

A third chief point understood to have been made by Bulganin was that the program should apply to all military bases of both Russia and the United States, including those on foreign soil.

In advance of Eisenhower's scheduled departure from Fraser for the Denver White House, aides said the Kremlin leader's note might be released for publication by the day's end or it might be held up until tomorrow.

"IKE MAKING IMPORTANT ADDRESS"

If you think our President can just throw his golf bag over his shoulder and wander off to the Golf Course and relax you're mistaken. First he has to notify the Secret Service, and they rush out and shake down the course for suspicious characters and Democratic Kibitzers. When he gets a clearance he gets into a car and drives away in great secrecy, followed by 85 newspaper reporters and cameramen. Then, on the first tee he finds a delegation of Texas Congressmen disquised as caddies who want him to okay a bill to rechannel the Mississippi so it would go through Dallas. After that, if he's lucky he whacks his first ball into the rough and spends the rest of the afternoon hunting for it. That's about the only way he can get away from it all.

Family Of 6 Pickets, Shuts Big Plant

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP) — What makes a picket line a picket line?

That's a multimillion - dollar question at the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co. here, where a man, his wife and four children have maintained an effective picket line since Wednesday.

E. S. McClain, 31-year-old former guard at the plant, says he was framed and fired. He is a member of Local 1466, CIO United Steelworkers.

McClain said he has paid his union dues for five years, "and when they didn't help me, I decided to help myself."

He said the Pullman-Standard Co. let him go after he complained at the union hall that Bessemer police were being worked as guards at higher pay than regular plant watchmen.

He had a fight with another guard later on, he related, and was placed under a $300 peace bond. He accused this guard of being a company spy.

So, he set up his picket line and 900 workers observed it.

Officials of District 36, United Steelworkers, informed the Bessemer local that the strike is unauthorized, and the union must abide by its contract with Pullman-Standard.

Many workers refused to enter the plant Wednesday, however, and the shutdown became complete yesterday, McClain said:

"We'll stay out there until I go back to work or they run me off."

The McClains carried crudely printed signs saying he had been framed, and urged other workers to stay out of the plant until he was reinstated.

Mort Herring, president of Local 1466, met with a grievance committee of the steelworkers union last night. Any decision concerning the McClain picket line was not revealed.

Herring and other union officers have asked McClain to remove the picket line.

"Nothing doing," said McClain. "I'm here until they run me off, or give me back my job."

Girl Doing OK Driving Big Truck

CHICAGO (AP)—Pat Moore, 20-year-old Cleveland secretary, may find it rather dull going back to her typewriter.

For the last month, the pretty 5-foot-3 girl has been operating a 34-ton dump truck.

She is one of the performers of the General Motors Powerama, a 23-acre diesel and gas turbine power exhibit in Chicago.

So far she hasn't dented a fender.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Moore of Cleveland, watched her maneuver the truck and her father remarked:

"And to think I didn't trust you with the family car."

Trade Pact Signed

LONDON (AP) — Britain and Bulgaria have signed a new trade agreement. Bulgaria will buy about $7 million worth of British goods in the next year, including machinery, textiles, fish, copper sulphate and woolen rags.

Gen. Lonardi Sworn In As Argentine Chief

Successor To Peron Makes Gala Entry Into Capital City

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, victorious chief of the rebellion which overthrew Juan D. Peron, took the oath of office as Argentina's provisional president today.

He was sworn in at Government House, where Peron reigned for a decade, only a short time after making a triumphal entry into the capital.

The revolution leader's entry into Buenos Aires was preceded by an order from the provisional government for the arrest of all Peron supporters in the national Congress. Earlier, the new regime had dissolved the Congress, in which Peronista party members held all 34 Senate seats and all but 12 places in the 155-member lower house.

Violence flared here and in Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, as students and other foes of the ousted dictator moved to eradicate evidences of Peron's power.

* * *

STREET FIGHTS occurred throughout Buenos Aires yesterday despite efforts of armed patrols to keep crowds from gathering. Several Peronista party buildings were wrecked. Pictures and busts of Peron and his late wife Eva were destroyed.

The arrest of Peronista congressmen was said to be for "investigation" and not as a retaliatory move. It was regarded as one of the strongest measures by the new government to ward off possible trouble from disgruntled Peron supporters.

Roadside Parks Topic Of Talks

COLUMBUS (AP)—Tours and discussions of Ohio's roadside parks will highlight the 14th short course on roadside development to be held here Oct. 4-7.

Course co-sponsors are the Ohio State University's department of landscape architecture and the Ohio Department of Highways. Architects from 20 states, Canada and Puerto Rico are expected to attend.

Final two days of the meet will include tours taking in Scioto River Valley farms, roadside parks in southern Ohio, historical spots in Chillicothe and Zaleski Forest.

Ag Experts Say Farm Price Level To Hold Steady Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department economists predicted today that the general level of farm prices will decline little if any more on this year's crops.

Farm prices now average about 6 per cent below a year ago. Democratic leaders have sharply criticized the Eisenhower administration for the price setbacks, saying present farm programs are inadequate.

In a monthly report on the demand and supply situation for farm products, the department's marketing service said that seasonal price declines may occur for some commodities But it said, "Much of the general price adjustment to increased supplies this season have already taken place."

Price drops this year, the report added, largely reflect market reactions to prospects of a record output of agricultural goods.

In a separate report yesterday, the Federal Reserve Board's monthly bulletin blamed the declins on big crops in recent years, overhanging surpluses owned by the government and on the cutback in federal price support rates for this season's grain harvest.

But despite a decrease in farm income "the general financial position of farmers remains relatively strong," the report added.

The two reports were made public as the National Agricultural Advisory Commission prepared to wind up a two-day conference today on what steps, if any, it believes the administration should take to bolster farm income.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has asked the 18-member bipartisan commission, appointed by President Eisenhower in 1953, for its ideas on what the government might do to put more money into farmers' pockets during the period of declining prices and downward adjustments in production from the high postwar levels.

After yesterday's closed commission meeting, a Benson aide said it appeared necessary to "buy time" with some temporary farm assistance program until the administration's new flexible price support system has taken hold.

One major proposal under consideration was that the government pay farmers to take surplus land out of crop production until price - depressing surpluses have been reduced.

The marketing service report noted crops this year appear likely to be the second largest of record, while livestock production is expected to put the combined output of all farm commodities about 3 per cent above the record volume produced last year.

Good Football In Store Here

If the rains hold off long enough, there will be some exciting football for Pickaway County fans Friday and Saturday night.

Tonight, Circleville High school's Tigers take on tough Linden McKinley. Last year in Columbus, CHS took it on the chin 30 to 13.

Last week, Linden downed Washington C. H. 25 to 7 while CHS blanked Athens 19 to 0. Kickoff time is 8 p. m. and this is Parents Night, the famous annual event here for the "moms" and "dads".

Saturday night at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds, six-man football enters its second week of play. One of the best games appears to be the one between Ashville and Pickaway, two of the top teams.

Kickoff time at the Fairgrounds is 6:30 p. m.

Vaden Couch Is Transferred By Purina Firm

Vaden Couch, who for 12 years has been manager of the local Ralston Purina plant, has been transferred to Iowa Falls, Ia., where he will serve as manager of the Ralston Purina holdings. The Iowa Falls plant is similar to the one here except for a much larger capacity for the processing of soy beans. It handles up to 4,000,000 bushels of beans a year.

Succeeding to the local managership will be Larry Varble, a 20-year man with R. P. and who has been serving as assistant manager of the R. P. factory installation in St. Louis.

He will arrive here in mid-October and will assume full duties the first of the year. Couch will assume his new post January 1.

Couch, who is married and the father of a son, Ellis, is a member of the Rotary, the Chamber of Commerce and the Methodist church. He is resigning as a member of the Methodist finance committee and as district chairman of the Boy Scouts.

He also has played an important role on the committee that stages the annual Recognition Day and barbecue for 4-H and FFA members.

Ohio University Enrollment Booms

ATHENS (AP)—Robert E. Mahn, registrar at Ohio University, said today enrollment is expected to reach a record.

Mahn said 6,010 students enrolled at the University yesterday and late registration this week "should boost the total over 6,100."

The 6,100 figure would set a new mark for the institution, eclipsing the 1948 record of 5,611.

Soviet Premier Adds Demand For Arms Cut

Eisenhower To Release Letter Soon, Followed Up By His Own Reply

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin is reported to have told President Eisenhower that if the Eisenhower plan for mutual aerial inspection and exchange of military blueprints is to be adopted it must be as part of a general disarmament plan.

The gist of Bulganin's personal message to Eisenhower came out last night and preparations were underway today to make public the text from the President's vacation headquarters.

It was learned in Washington that Bulganin also told Eisenhower the proposed disarmament program should provide for prompt renunciation and abolition of all atomic weapons.

A third chief point understood to have been made by Bulganin was that the program should apply to all military bases of both Russia and the United States, including those on foreign soil.

In advance of Eisenhower's scheduled departure from Fraser for the Denver White House, aides said the Kremlin leader's note might be released for publication by the day's end or it might be held up until tomorrow.

New Marion School To Open Early

COLUMBUS (AP) — Crowded Ohio prisons have forced an early opening of the partially remodeled penal institution at Marion. Construction work still continues.

Commissioner of Correction M. C. Koblentz said first transfers to the Marion unit are expected early next month. Now known as the Marion Training School, it will be called the Marion Correctional Institution effective Oct. 1.

Koblentz said the $10 million program at Marion was the biggest Ohio prison construction in 30 years. He said the new units will be utilized by a "select type of trainable inmate."

Three major shops will be included on the grounds for training in sheet metal work, furniture building and tailoring.

At the present time, Koblentz said, Ohio prisons are overpopulated by 1,600. He listed total population this week at 10,480. And, he added, pressure will increase with fall terms of courts opening.

Formerly an institution for juvenile offenders, the Marion unit was taken over by the department of correction in 1950. It is listed as a medium security prison, but Koblentz said there'll be "no feather bedding" for the inmates.

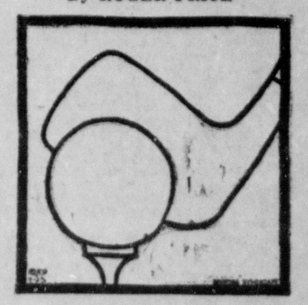

Koblentz said the present schedule calls for 25 inmates a week to be transferred to Marion, mostly from Ohio Penitentiary. By Jan. 1, up to 500 inmates should be occupying the first section of buildings. This includes 10 dormitories, each housing 64 men.

"IKE MAKING IMPORTANT ADDRESS"

If you think our President can just throw his golf bag over his shoulder and wander off to the Golf Course and relax you're mistaken. First he has to notify the Secret Service, and they rush out and shake down the course for suspicious characters and Democratic Kibitzers. When he gets a clearance he gets into a car and drives away in great secrecy, followed by 85 newspaper reporters and cameramen. Then, on the first tee he finds a delegation of Texas Congressmen disquised as caddies who want him to okay a bill to rechannel the Mississippi so it would go through Dallas. After that, if he's lucky he whacks his first ball into the rough and spends the rest of the afternoon hunting for it. That's about the only way he can get away from it all.

Family Of 6 Pickets, Shuts Big Plant

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP) — What makes a picket line a picket line?

That's a multimillion - dollar question at the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co. here, where a man, his wife and four children have maintained an effective picket line since Wednesday.

E. S. McClain, 31-year-old former guard at the plant, says he was framed and fired. He is a member of Local 1466, CIO United Steelworkers.

McClain said he has paid his union dues for five years, "and when they didn't help me, I decided to help myself."

He said the Pullman-Standard Co. let him go after he complained at the union hall that Bessemer police were being worked as guards at higher pay than regular plant watchmen.

He had a fight with another guard later on, he related, and was placed under a $300 peace bond. He accused this guard of being a company spy.

So, he set up his picket line and 900 workers observed it.

Officials of District 36, United Steelworkers, informed the Bessemer local that the strike is unauthorized, and the union must abide by its contract with Pullman-Standard.

Many workers refused to enter the plant Wednesday, however, and the shutdown became complete yesterday, McClain said:

"We'll stay out there until I go back to work or they run me off."

The McClains carried crudely printed signs saying he had been framed, and urged other workers to stay out of the plant until he was reinstated.

Mort Herring, president of Local 1466, met with a grievance committee of the steelworkers union last night. Any decision concerning the McClain picket line was not revealed.

Herring and other union officers have asked McClain to remove the picket line.

"Nothing doing," said McClain. "I'm here until they run me off, or give me back my job."

Soviet Premier Adds Demand For Arms Cut

ate said, "as soon as it can be made ready," but probably not before next week.

At Eisenhower's Rocky Mountain fishing camp near here, Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, still declined any direct comment on the content of the Bulganin message, which the President received Wednesday.

But sources elsewhere said it deals with Eisenhower's Geneva Big Four proposal that the United States and Russia swap military blueprints and agree on mutual aerial inspection of military establishments.

U. S. officials were reported to regard the Bulganin reply as generally encouraging in tone. Some of them were understood to feel the premier attached strings. Others felt it was not even a conditional acceptance but rather essentially a restatement of long-standing Soviet policy on disarmament.

There seemed to be agreement in Washington, however, that the reply is not a rejection of the Eisenhower plan, and that it leaves the door open for further negotiation in the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

Since the Geneva summit meeting the Soviet Union never has specifically rejected the Eisenhower plan. But it has called for dismantling U. S. overseas bases, withdrawal of troops from Germany, and for steps to improve trade and cultural relations between East and West.

Mississippi Murder Trial Nearing Jury

Verdict Seen Hinged On Identification Of Chicago Boy's Body

SUMNER, Miss. (AP) — Attorneys for two men accused of murdering a Chicago Negro boy rested their defense today.

The defense finished its case after presenting six character witnesses, three each for 24-year old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother, John W. Milam. Attorneys began arguments to the jury before noon. The defendants did not testify.

Circuit Judge Curtis Swango again overruled defense motions for a directed verdict of innocent.

The judge then ordered a brief recess before state prosecutors began their final summation.

In Mississippi, the state opens and closes the final arguments. The defense argument is sandwiched between the state's arguments.

The half-brothers are accused of murdering Emmett Louis Till, 14-year-old Negro, and dumping his weighed body into the muddy Tallahatchie River.

Defense attorneys appeared confident the all-male, all-white jury would free Bryant and Milam, principally, they felt, as a result of testimony by three defense witnesses attacking the identification of the battered body as that of Till.

State attorneys voiced doubt they would get a guilty verdict.

* * *

ACQUITTAL, however, doesn't end the Till case. The defendants also face kidnap charges.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, Till's widowed mother, gave the trial a dramatic moment yesterday afternoon. She cried as she looked at a picture of the body.

She said it was her son "beyond a shadow of a doubt."

But three defense witnesses cast doubt.

Sheriff H. C. Strider of Tallahatchie County said the body appeared to have been in the river "at least 10 days, if not 15."

A country undertaker, H. D. Malone, estimated the time in the water at 10-25 days.

Dr. L. B. Otken, a physician from nearby Greenwood, put the time at eight days.

All three witnesses said the body was badly decomposed.

This was a critical point because only three days elapsed from the time Till was taken from his uncle's home until the body was found by a teen-aged fisherman.

On cross-examination, the state drew agreement from both Dr. Otken and Sheriff Strider that a body that had been badly injured would decompose more rapidly than a normal body.

The defense concentrated its questioning on identification, the heart of the state's case. If the state failed in jurors' eyes to prove Till was murdered, Bryant and Milam could not be convicted of killing him.

Thugs Get $1600 In Akron Cafe

AKRON (AP)—Two gunmen today fled with loot estimated at $1,600 after holding up the Chanticleer Restaurant and 25 of its patrons. They wrecked their stolen getaway car eluding restaurant chef Max Flory who chased them in his own automobile.

Sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen hunted for the pair in a rural area near the Medina-Summit County line.

One of the men had a pistol, the other a rifle when they entered the restaurant on Ohio 176 near Akron's west outskirts shortly before 1:30 a. m. One gunman covered the patrons while the other took $556 from the cash register and added an estimated $1,000 more by emptying the customers' wallets.

2 More U.S. Citizens Said Leaving China

HONG KONG (AP)—Two American civilians long detained in Red China reportedly boarded a ship at Shanghai today, U. S. consular officials said. Four others are expected to leave in two weeks.

The six are on the list of 12 civilians detained in China up to five years for lack of exit permits. The Reds announced at Geneva they were free to leave.

U. S. Vice Consul Robert Aylward said he had received word that Emma Angelina Barrs, 10, and Robert Howard Parker, 82-year-old Philadelphia - born businessman, were aboard the British freighter Hunan due in Hong Kong Sept. 27. Emma, whose American father's whereabouts are unknown, was reported to be with her white Russian mother. Parker was believed to be accompanied by his white Russian wife.

The four others:

Sister Eva Stella Dugay, 62, Boston Carmelite nun, known as Sister Theresa; Mrs. Marcella Eileen Huizer of Walcott, Ind., who consular officials said would board the British freighter Surat leaving Shanghai next week for Hong Kong; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ricks of Boscobel, Wis., booked to Yokohama in the Dutch ship Straat Bali leaving Shanghai Oct. 6. Mrs. Huizer is believed accompanied by her Dutch husband.

Mystery deepened today on when the Reds are freeing Dilmus T. Kanady, Houston cotton man, the only unreturned prisoner of 16 Americans promised immediate release at Geneva. Speculation was growing that Kanady too is exiting by ship because of his reported poor physical condition.

German Assembly OKs Soviet Pact

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German Bundestag unanimously approved the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union today.

The ratification of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Moscow agreement with Soviet Premier Bulganin ended a two-day debate during which the 79-year-old government chief said the new trend in German Russian relations "offers the prospect of future easing of international tensions and national unity in freedom to Germany."

Walnut Twp. Home Scene Of Breakin

A breakin of a Walnut Township home, which reportedly took place sometime Thursday night, was not discovered until this morning, according to a report from the sheriff's department.

The residence is occupied by Mary and Anna Kaiser and is located on the Ashville-Fairfield Rd. east of the Walnut Township School. Entry was made by cutting the screen on the front door and unhookig it.

Approximately $100, mostly in $20 bills, a keepsake pocket watch and a small gold tie clasp, with a chipped diamond, were among the items reported missing. Several other things were left untouched although the room where the theft took place was ransacked.

The breakin was not noticed earlier because the door through which the entry was made is not used too often, the report stated.

Phantom Killer Is Denied Mercy

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — John Wesley Wable, phantom killer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, was refused mercy by the state pardons board yesterday. He is scheduled to die in the electric chair next week.

Wable's attorneys had pleaded that further evidence would turn up. They said the death penalty for 26-year-old Wable "is not in the best interests of society." The Westmoreland County district attorney's office opposed the plea.

The pardons board turned down both applications for commutation of the death sentence to live imprisonment.

Storm Janet Makes Ocean Like 'Boiling Buttermilk'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Janet, so powerful that her winds made ocean waters look like "boiling buttermilk," whirled westward in the Caribbean Sea today.

Big-eyed and capricious, Janet was bowling along in a northwesterly direction at about 15 mph. Navy reconnaissance planes spotted her about 425 miles south - southeast of San Juan, P. R.

She had changed her course somewhat, and all warnings were hauled down in the Windward Islands. Several of the smaller islands in the Windward group had been in the storm's path.

Observers at the San Juan Weather Bureau said Janet, the 10th tropical storm of the season, was throwing her weight around with winds up to 115 mph over a small area near the center. She was described as having a well-defined eye about 20 miles in diameter; her future deportment was listed as uncertain.

Gales whipped out 140 miles to the north and 90 miles to the south.

"The water looked like boiling buttermilk," said Lt. Cmdr. Kenneth Mackie of Albany, N. Y., who flew a Navy Neptune hurricane-hunting plane into the eye of the storm.

* * *

"THE STORM'S turbulence is extremely severe. I don't understand why our plane did not fall apart," he said.

The hurricane smashed across Barbados Island, flattening flimsy wooden structures in which the poorer of the island's 200,000 inhabitants live. Shattered buildings and fallen trees blocked roads.

More than 100 persons are believed to have perished and thousands were left homeless in Barbados by Janet's furious winds last night and today. Inland communications are knocked out and officials said it was impossible accurately to estimate the number of casualties.

Janet followed quickly on the heels of hurricanes Hilda and Ione.

There was no indication that Janet would strike the mainland. Forecasters pointed out she is a small, intense hurricane and may be on the weather map for a week.

Drunk Drivers Serve Days Consecutively

Two men, convicted in Circleville Municipal Court, of drunk driving here, have begun to serve their sentences on consecutive days in the Pickaway County Jail.

Delos W. Morris, 39, of Williamsport, was also fined $150 and costs and had his license suspended for one year. He was arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

William Burdette, 52, of Cleveland, was fined $100 and costs and had his dirving rights suspended for six months in addition to the jail sentence. Officer Bob Temple made the arrest.

Other city court cases included the following:

American Killed In Israel Incident

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An American tourist was among three passengers killed in the ambush of an Israeli bus by an armed gang last night near the Lebanese border.

The American victim was identified as Herman Brach, 28, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a nephew of Rabbi Joseph Teitelbaum of Brooklyn.

U. N. truce observers began an on-the-spot investigation of the ambush today after a complaint from Israel was received by the Israeli-Lebanese Mixed Armistice Commission which said it occurred in the mountains of Galilee, six miles south of the frontier.

Soviet Premier Adds Demand For Arms Cut

ate said, "as soon as it can be made ready," but probably not before next week.

At Eisenhower's Rocky Mountain fishing camp near here, Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, still declined any direct comment on the content of the Bulganin message, which the President received Wednesday.

But sources elsewhere said it deals with Eisenhower's Geneva Big Four proposal that the United States and Russia swap military blueprints and agree on mutual aerial inspection of military establishments.

U. S. officials were reported to regard the Bulganin reply as generally encouraging in tone. Some of them were understood to feel the premier attached strings. Others felt it was not even a conditional acceptance but rather essentially a restatement of long-standing Soviet policy on disarmament.

There seemed to be agreement in Washington, however, that the reply is not a rejection of the Eisenhower plan, and that it leaves the door open for further negotiation in the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

Since the Geneva summit meeting the Soviet Union never has specifically rejected the Eisenhower plan. But it has called for dismantling U. S. overseas bases, withdrawal of troops from Germany, and for steps to improve trade and cultural relations between East and West.

Mississippi Murder Trial Nearing Jury

Verdict Seen Hinged On Identification Of Chicago Boy's Body

SUMNER, Miss. (AP) — Attorneys for two men accused of murdering a Chicago Negro boy rested their defense today.

The defense finished its case after presenting six character witnesses, three each for 24-year old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother, John W. Milam. Attorneys began arguments to the jury before noon. The defendants did not testify.

Circuit Judge Curtis Swango again overruled defense motions for a directed verdict of innocent.

The judge then ordered a brief recess before state prosecutors began their final summation.

In Mississippi, the state opens and closes the final arguments. The defense argument is sandwiched between the state's arguments.

The half-brothers are accused of murdering Emmett Louis Till, 14-year-old Negro, and dumping his weighed body into the muddy Tallahatchie River.

Defense attorneys appeared confident the all-male, all-white jury would free Bryant and Milam, principally, they felt, as a result of testimony by three defense witnesses attacking the identification of the battered body as that of Till.

State attorneys voiced doubt they would get a guilty verdict.

* * *

ACQUITTAL, however, doesn't end the Till case. The defendants also face kidnap charges.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, Till's widowed mother, gave the trial a dramatic moment yesterday afternoon. She cried as she looked at a picture of the body.

She said it was her son "beyond a shadow of a doubt."

But three defense witnesses cast doubt.

Sheriff H. C. Strider of Tallahatchie County said the body appeared to have been in the river "at least 10 days, if not 15."

A country undertaker, H. D. Malone, estimated the time in the water at 10-25 days.

Dr. L. B. Otken, a physician from nearby Greenwood, put the time at eight days.

All three witnesses said the body was badly decomposed.

This was a critical point because only three days elapsed from the time Till was taken from his uncle's home until the body was found by a teen-aged fisherman.

On cross-examination, the state drew agreement from both Dr. Otken and Sheriff Strider that a body that had been badly injured would decompose more rapidly than a normal body.

The defense concentrated its questioning on identification, the heart of the state's case. If the state failed in jurors' eyes to prove Till was murdered, Bryant and Milam could not be convicted of killing him.

Thugs Get $1600 In Akron Cafe

AKRON (AP)—Two gunmen today fled with loot estimated at $1,600 after holding up the Chanticleer Restaurant and 25 of its patrons. They wrecked their stolen getaway car eluding restaurant chef Max Flory who chased them in his own automobile.

Sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen hunted for the pair in a rural area near the Medina-Summit County line.

One of the men had a pistol, the other a rifle when they entered the restaurant on Ohio 176 near Akron's west outskirts shortly before 1:30 a. m. One gunman covered the patrons while the other took $556 from the cash register and added an estimated $1,000 more by emptying the customers' wallets.

2 More U.S. Citizens Said Leaving China

HONG KONG (AP)—Two American civilians long detained in Red China reportedly boarded a ship at Shanghai today, U. S. consular officials said. Four others are expected to leave in two weeks.

The six are on the list of 12 civilians detained in China up to five years for lack of exit permits. The Reds announced at Geneva they were free to leave.

U. S. Vice Consul Robert Aylward said he had received word that Emma Angelina Barrs, 10, and Robert Howard Parker, 82-year-old Philadelphia - born businessman, were aboard the British freighter Hunan due in Hong Kong Sept. 27. Emma, whose American father's whereabouts are unknown, was reported to be with her white Russian mother. Parker was believed to be accompanied by his white Russian wife.

The four others:

Sister Eva Stella Dugay, 62, Boston Carmelite nun, known as Sister Theresa; Mrs. Marcella Eileen Huizer of Walcott, Ind., who consular officials said would board the British freighter Surat leaving Shanghai next week for Hong Kong; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ricks of Boscobel, Wis., booked to Yokohama in the Dutch ship Straat Bali leaving Shanghai Oct. 6. Mrs. Huizer is believed accompanied by her Dutch husband.

Mystery deepened today on when the Reds are freeing Dilmus T. Kanady, Houston cotton man, the only unreturned prisoner of 16 Americans promised immediate release at Geneva. Speculation was growing that Kanady too is exiting by ship because of his reported poor physical condition.

German Assembly OKs Soviet Pact

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German Bundestag unanimously approved the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union today.

The ratification of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Moscow agreement with Soviet Premier Bulganin ended a two-day debate during which the 79-year-old government chief said the new trend in German Russian relations "offers the prospect of future easing of international tensions and national unity in freedom to Germany."

Walnut Twp. Home Scene Of Breakin

A breakin of a Walnut Township home, which reportedly took place sometime Thursday night, was not discovered until this morning, according to a report from the sheriff's department.

The residence is occupied by Mary and Anna Kaiser and is located on the Ashville-Fairfield Rd. east of the Walnut Township School. Entry was made by cutting the screen on the front door and unhookig it.

Approximately $100, mostly in $20 bills, a keepsake pocket watch and a small gold tie clasp, with a chipped diamond, were among the items reported missing. Several other things were left untouched although the room where the theft took place was ransacked.

The breakin was not noticed earlier because the door through which the entry was made is not used too often, the report stated.

Phantom Killer Is Denied Mercy

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — John Wesley Wable, phantom killer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, was refused mercy by the state pardons board yesterday. He is scheduled to die in the electric chair next week.

Wable's attorneys had pleaded that further evidence would turn up. They said the death penalty for 26-year-old Wable "is not in the best interests of society." The Westmoreland County district attorney's office opposed the plea.

The pardons board turned down both applications for commutation of the death sentence to live imprisonment.

Plan To Aid Religious Training Outlined For City Grade Pupils

George Hartman, superintendent of Circleville city schools, has outlined a recently adopted plan designed to advance the cause of religious education.

The plan, which provides released time for religious education, has been approved by the city school board. It covers only the first six grades. Hartman said it had been requested by the Pickaway County Ministerial Association.

Ten points will guide operation of the program. The board of education, in its approving action, explained:

1. That pupils will attend the church of their choice.

2. That Friday will be designated as the day for released time.

3. That released time for religious education will begin on Friday, November 4, and end at Easter time.

* * *

4. THAT the religious education program will apply to grades one through six only.

5. That the ministerial association shall furnish an enrollment card.

6. That the teacher will send the card home and permit only those pupils to attend that have the signature of their parent or guardian.

7. That pupils properly registered will be released at 2:20 p. m. on religious education days.

8. That the school will not be responsible in any way for transportation to and from the various churches.

9. That if a child is properly registered and excused from school to attend religious education in the church of his choice, and he fails to appear or attend, he will not be excused from school to attend again, unless he can show without a doubt a reasonable excuse for his absence.

10. That all churches receiving pupils on released time are requested to furnish the school with an attendance record.

All teachers will remain on duty at the schools while pupils are absent for religious education. Special arrangements will be made by each teacher, if necessary, to continue instructions meanwhile for any non-participating pupils.

Chardon Jury To Hear New Data On Cavey

CHARDON, OHIO (AP) — Leo Cavey's wife and mother were slated to take the witness stand at his first-degree murder trial today, following testimony about the defendant's drinking, moodiness, and disturbed behavior.

A 43-year-old well driller, Cavey has admitted the fatal bludgeoning of wealthy Alva J. Williams, 80, last May 12. But Cavey pleaded innocent, claiming insanity caused partly by excessive drinking.

The defense brought witnesses yesterday who testified to Cavey's abnormal behavior since a barroom fight two years ago in which he was struck on the head by a bar stool.

A Williamsfield restaurant operator, William Worman, recounted that after the fight Cavey was "at times very jovial and jolly but at other times he seemed to be in deep thought. He just wasn't himself."

Another witness was a part-time bartender called Diz, "because I'm half - crazy" who described himself as one of Cavey's best friends. The witness, Robert Horner, said that in recent months Cavey began drinking very heavily. He added:

"He was restless and worried. He didn't have no 'ambish.' He looked down and out."

Chanaes Noted Affecting Titles After Sept. 30

Several changes concerning certificates of title will go into effect Sept. 30 throughout the state.

The Pickaway County Clerk of Courts office has asked that Pickaway County residents observe these changes. They include:

1. New fees will be in effect. An original certificate of title will cost $1, as will a duplicate; a memorandum certificate of title will cost 50 cents.

2. Ohio certificates of title issued on and after the effective date will show only an identification number. This applies to all transfers of motor vehicles, an out-of-state titles or other evidence of ownership. Hereafter, titles will carry only the manufacturer's serial number, or serial number which will represent a motor vevehicle identification number.

* * *

3. AFTER Sept. 30, when there is a change in motors in a vehicle, a new certificate of title showing the change will not be required or issued.

Residents are asked to remember that these provisions do not go into effect until Sept. 30.

Stubby Sub Launched And It Floats!

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The cluster of spectators on the shipyard dock looked amazed when Edmund Martine's stubby little submarine hit the water and floated.

Martine and his associate Fred Zendar weren't surprised but they conceded that all details of the first flotation tests surpassed expectitations, although the 42-foot sub's tail dropped slightly.

Martine, who has designed diving bells, built the Cetacean with his own funds as an experiment. He says it's his dream of a self-powered, deep water diving machine. He hopes to use it in exploring and photographing undersea life and geography.

The Cetacean weighs 53 tons and carries inside its steel shell a dual set of diesel-electric motors which Martine expects will give the craft a speed of 10 knots on the surface and seven submerged. The Cetacean, shaped something like a cocoon, has on its bottom twin "feet" for ocean floor pedestals.

The nose, sides and bottomside of the hull are fitted with optically ground glass ports through which cameras are trained. Twelve lights, each of 600 watts output, will send piercing beams through the water for photographic purposes.

Tests will continue this week, and Martine hopes to put to sea in the Cetacean within two weeks for deep sea tests.

Cancer 'Quacks' Rapped By AMA

CHICAGO (AP)—An American Medical Assn. investigator says cancer quacks take the public for 50 million dollars a year and cause thousands of deaths among persons kept from obtaining early diagnosis by competent physicians. Oliver Field told an American Cancer Society meeting that if and when a cancer cure is found, the medical profession will make it known.

JOHN N. ROLL, maintenance man at the Circleville General Electric Plant, is shown above as he must have looked when figuring out a suggestion which recently netted him $150. This is the highest award paid to date at the local lamp plant under the GE Suggestion Plan, whereby an employe is awarded a percentage of the first year's net savings on a suggestion he or she has submitted. This suggestion must be a new idea or a new application of an old idea. Awards are made to employes other than supervisory, professional, and methods and planning personnel when their submitted suggestions are adopted and put into use.

Realigning Of Routes In Effect For Circleville School Buses

A realignment of bus routes for Circleville city schools is now in effect, according to George Hartman, superintendent of city schools, who also reported on local construction progress.

A newly purchased 60-passenger bus, driven by Wayne Martin, covers two trips. One covers Route 23 up to Belle Siding, including the Cedar Heights Rd. area. And the other is a special trip to the trailer camp area north of here.

Kenneth Blue is the driver on the route covering Walnut Creek Pike, Dunkle Rd., Route 22 to the Charles Walter's farm, and also Nicholas Drive. His bus is loaded to capacity this year as are all the others, Hartman said.

Mrs. Betty Phillips drives her bus into the Fairgrounds area, and the Isaac Addition in Circleville Township. She makes two trips each morning and afternoon.

* * *

"IT WAS necessary to schedule buses to Atwater, High St., Franklin St. and Corwin St. schools this year to balance grade enrollments," Hartman explained. "Bus schedules have been extremely hard to work out because buses need to deliver pupils to so many different buildings.

"Next year, the new rooms we will then have available will make it much easier to work out time schedules for our three school buses."

Hartman said that the "population growth of school children in Circleville Township has been tremendous in the past year. This is probably due largely to the great number of new homes that have been built in that area."

He pointed out that at the beginning of the last school term buses here were overloaded. As a partial solution to the problem, Hartman explained, the city board of education purchased an additional bus (the one now driven by Martin) which took care of the overload for the remainder of the school year.

Hartman also announced that work on the main S. Court St. building is progressing rapidly. He reported that the contractor received the long-awaited steel bar joist for that building and that most of the concrete floor has been poured.

Joists were delivered to the Franklin St. building this week Hartman said. Brick laying will soon start at the S. Court St. building and good progress is being made at the Atwater building because that structure did not call for steel bar joists, he added.

This may be hard to believe, but insurance companies say that a man who works in a high explosive manufacturing plant is a better insurance risk than one who works in a filling station, where accidents are much more frequent.

Ex-Cell-O Co. Strike Still Going Strong

DETROIT (AP)—The strike of 4,800 Ex-Cell-O Corp. employes at plants here and in Lima and Fostoria, Ohio, was no where near solution today.

Peace talks between union and management have broke off. All further mediation has been cancelled.

The CIO United Auto Workers said the company "virtually has closed the door on bargaining." The UAW said Ex-Cell-O refuses to negotiate on the issue of transferring production from one plant to another. The company did not comment.

The union argued the production transfer results in the displacement of workers, and as such is "a proper collective bargaining matter."

Lack of agreement on the work transfer and other non-economic matters has delayed start of wage talks in a new contract.

There are 3,500 UAW members on strike here since Sept. 13. The following day, 1,000 employes struck at the Lima plant and 300 at Fostoria.

USS Forrestal Passing Tests

ABOARD USS FORRESTAL (AP)—The supercarrier Forrestal, which flunked her first sea trials three weeks ago, apparently has passed her second examination in excellent style.

The 59,000-ton giant had her "big day" Thursday when she was put through a series of rugged turns and was opened up full speed for a five-hour endurance run in the Atlantic.

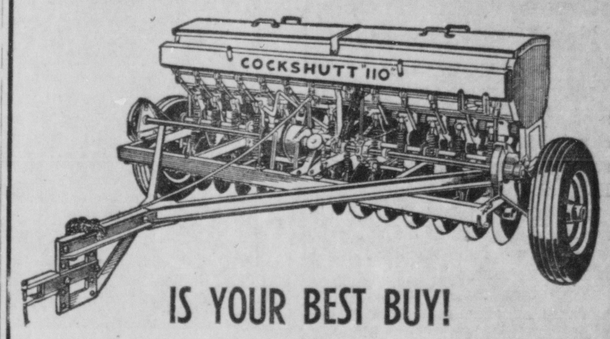

Afterward, officials of the Newport News Shipyard, which built the warship, said they had never seen a big vessel handle any better.

Air Pollution Battled On Many Fronts

Scientists Pondering Causes Behind Trouble; New Theory Expounded

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Air pollution is accused of many things—choking city residents, souring tourists, stunting flower gardens, unravelling stockings.

Now there's talk that dirty air may be the secret of the apparent warming up of the world's climate in recent years.

More than 100 laboratories are working on specific phases of the pollution problem. Oil industry brought out a new badget for measuring and identifying inpurities in the air. They hope to find out how auto exhausts, wastes from burning rubbish, fumes from industrial smokestacks react to other things in the air.

Factories are installing more and more equipment to hold down air pollution. Cities debate complex an expensive schemes for clearing out smog pockets.

Besides the toll in human comfort, air pollution costs untold sums in property damage. It can cause declines in realty values, and it threatens costly chemical assaults on the precise instruments of this age of automation and ever more delicate industrial processes.

But up till now the atom-bomb had been more likely than a car's exhaust pipe to be suspected of messing up the climate. Fusion and fission have been dourly charged with casuing floods, drought and temperature swings unlike those when grandfather was a boy.

Now, Dr. John G. Hutton of General Eelctric's engineering alboratory in Schenectady, N. Y., thinks that air pollution may be at the bottom of the mystery. He says all this bad air may be "having a greenhouse effect on our climate."

The industrial scientist charges that man is "contaiminating the earth's atmosphere faster than nature can clean it." This pollution pumps up a belt of carbon dioxide encircling the earth which acts like a blanket—or a greenhouse.

Man's messing around takes two forms. Trees and plant furify the air bv taking up carbon dioxide and discharging oxygen. But Dr. Hutton points out to members of the Cleveland Engineering Society and "when people chop down trees bulldoze once-rural land for new suburbs, and build factories on former open fields, they lessen the amount of carbon dioxide nature is cleaning from our air, as well as the oxygen nature is putting into it."

The other thing man is doing, the scientist notes, is to step up more automobiles, trucks, trains, planes and ships, by building more factories and refineries and in other ways pouring carbon dioxide and other contaminants into the atmosphere."

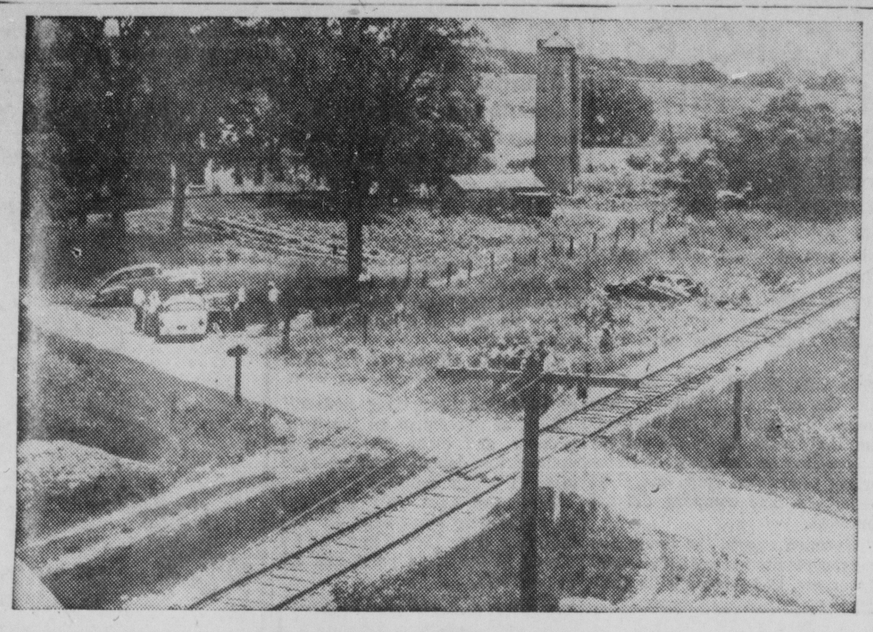

The idea that the dirty air is having a greenhouse effect and warming up the climate will be studied, Dr. Hutton says, by many scientists during the International Geophysical Year in 1958.

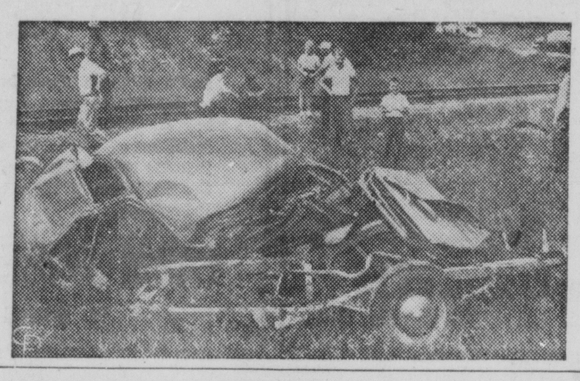

Farm Wife Cited For Shooting Boy

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP) — An angry farm wife fired a shotgun into a truckload of youths Thursday. One boy, Bennet Pyle, 15, was blinded in the right eye. Three others suffered minor injuries.

The woman, Mrs. Harrison Holt, about 50, told Sheriff Clayton Upchurch that the youths, students at York Institute, yelled at her on their way to a farm demonstration and again when they returned. She said she fired "just to scare 'em."

Charged with felonious assault, she waived preliminary hearing and posted $4,000 bond pending grand jury action in January.

A MOTHER and five of her 10 children are dead as result of this crossing accident at Allen's Grove, Wis. It happened with the husband and father, H. Smith, watching from the front porch of his parents' home 200 feet beyond (house shown). Dead are Mrs. Eddie Smith; Larry, 13; Jacquelyn, 4; Keith, 6; Debbie, 1; Skippie, 3; Beatrice Smit', the driver, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Smith, and the other five children were injured. The crowded Smith auto was struck by a Chicago-bound passenger train. (International)

Japanese Protest Base Expansion

ITAMI, Japan (AP) — Japanese farmers and sympathizers for weeks have demonstrated against enlarging the U. S. Itami Air Base. Four hundred cabaret operators, pub owners and laundrymen—who enjoy a brisk business with U. S. servicemen—turned out Thursday in a demonstration against the demonstrators.

Life expectancy of the average American worker in 1912 was 46 years. Today the figure is just a percentage mark below 70 years.

Hollywood Agent Cooking Up New Idea To Make A Buck

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sometimes you really have to work to make a buck in this town.

Take a fellow like Mel Schlank. He had been an agent in Hollywood for many years. Sometimes his 10 per cent from the clients' labors mounted up. Sometimes it didn't. Lately the moola wasn't rolling in.

He started thinking. As anybody in show business knows, one of the most profitable sidelines is the tie-up industry.

Nearly every TV star appealing to kids does it. You see Howdy Doody on jam glasses, Guy Madison on cereal boxes, Davy Crockett on everything.

But, Schlank reasoned, one of the most popular shows on TV had no tieups. That was the Little Rascals.

The reason was obvious. Hal Roach made the comedy shorts 20 years ago. He sold them to a TV distributor after the war to get his studio out of hock. Now the child stars in the comedies have grown up and scattered.

His first objective was Spanky McFarland. He was located in Texas, where he had gone after an unsuccessful comeback try in Hollywood. Schlank convinced him to return again and signed him up for tie-ups as well as acting.

"I went after Alfalfa Switzer next," Schlank recalled.

Alfalfa had become a bear hunting guide in Northern California, then returned to Hollywood for a couple of roles. He married and retired to a farm in Kansas. Schlank located him there through a casting director who knew him.

"Next came Darla Hood," the agent said. "She was the easiest to find, because she had been working in Jimmy McHugh's night club act. But because she was the only one still active in show business, she was the hardest to sell."

But he signed her and went on to his greatest challenge, finding Buckwheat Thomas.

"I tried several leads, but they all failed," Schlank remarked. Finally I got his social security number through MGM and located his mother.

"His mother was suspicious and didn't want to tell me anything. Finally she told me that he was in the Army at Ft. Lewis, Washington."

Schlank enlisted in the Army brass in the search for Buckwheat and finaly reached him.

"Now we're ready to make deals for all kinds of merchandise," Schlank said.

Owen Lattimore Lecturing Again

BALTIMORE (AP) — Owen Lattimore has returned to work as a lecturer at Johns Hopkins University, a university spokesman said Thursday

Lattimore, Far Eastern affairs specialist, was placed on leave with pay in December, 1952, pending disposition of a federal grand jury indictment charging him with perjury.

He was accused of lying to a Senate subcommittee when he denied he was a follower of the Communist line or promoter of Communist interests.

Four major counts of the indictment were dismissed as too "nebulous and indefinite" and the others were dropped by the government last June 30.

The slot machine is older than most people think. Ancient Egyptian temples had machines constructed so that if a coin dropped in the top, a valve opened and a certain amount of holy water flowed out. Then the valve closed.

'DEW' Line Gets Supplies From Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy points with pride to a "great victory" over arctic barriers in taking supplies to the nation's northernmost radar outposts.

Vice Adm. F. C. Denebrink, commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, said recently this summer's shipments to build the Distant Early Warning (DEW) radar defense line marked the first use of the historic Northwest passage to move men and supplies.

Denebrink said not a life was lost among the 18,647 people aboard 126 ships in the three-month operation. He said 548,000 tons of general supplies and 3,686,000 barrels of petroleum products were unloaded along the 1500-mile line.

Air Pollution Battled On Many Fronts

Scientists Pondering Causes Behind Trouble; New Theory Expounded

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Air pollution is accused of many things—choking city residents, souring tourists, stunting flower gardens, unravelling stockings.

Now there's talk that dirty air may be the secret of the apparent warming up of the world's climate in recent years.

More than 100 laboratories are working on specific phases of the pollution problem. Oil industry brought out a new badget for measuring and identifying inpurities in the air. They hope to find out how auto exhausts, wastes from burning rubbish, fumes from industrial smokestacks react to other things in the air.

Factories are installing more and more equipment to hold down air pollution. Cities debate complex an expensive schemes for clearing out smog pockets.

Besides the toll in human comfort, air pollution costs untold sums in property damage. It can cause declines in realty values, and it threatens costly chemical assaults on the precise instruments of this age of automation and ever more delicate industrial processes.

But up till now the atom-bomb had been more likely than a car's exhaust pipe to be suspected of messing up the climate. Fusion and fission have been dourly charged with casuing floods, drought and temperature swings unlike those when grandfather was a boy.

Now, Dr. John G. Hutton of General Eelctric's engineering alboratory in Schenectady, N. Y., thinks that air pollution may be at the bottom of the mystery. He says all this bad air may be "having a greenhouse effect on our climate."

The industrial scientist charges that man is "contaiminating the earth's atmosphere faster than nature can clean it." This pollution pumps up a belt of carbon dioxide encircling the earth which acts like a blanket—or a greenhouse.

Man's messing around takes two forms. Trees and plant furify the air bv taking up carbon dioxide and discharging oxygen. But Dr. Hutton points out to members of the Cleveland Engineering Society and "when people chop down trees bulldoze once-rural land for new suburbs, and build factories on former open fields, they lessen the amount of carbon dioxide nature is cleaning from our air, as well as the oxygen nature is putting into it."

The other thing man is doing, the scientist notes, is to step up more automobiles, trucks, trains, planes and ships, by building more factories and refineries and in other ways pouring carbon dioxide and other contaminants into the atmosphere."

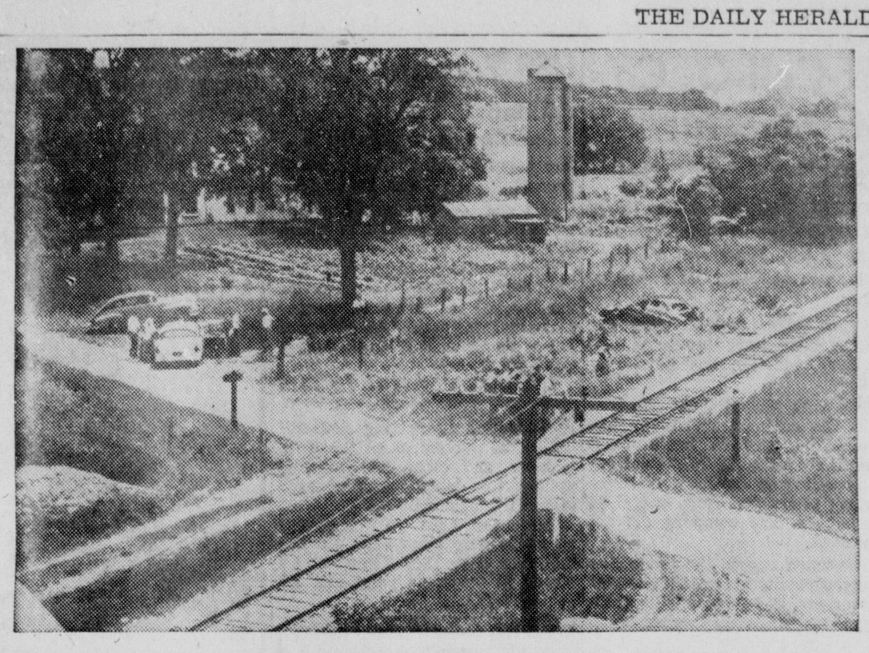

The idea that the dirty air is having a greenhouse effect and warming up the climate will be studied, Dr. Hutton says, by many scientists during the International Geophysical Year in 1958.

Farm Wife Cited For Shooting Boy

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP) — An angry farm wife fired a shotgun into a truckload of youths Thursday. One boy, Bennet Pyle, 15, was blinded in the right eye. Three others suffered minor injuries.

The woman, Mrs. Harrison Holt, about 50, told Sheriff Clayton Upchurch that the youths, students at York Institute, yelled at her on their way to a farm demonstration and again when they returned. She said she fired "just to scare 'em."

Charged with felonious assault, she waived preliminary hearing and posted $4,000 bond pending grand jury action in January.

A MOTHER and five of her 10 children are dead as result of this crossing accident at Allen's Grove, Wis. It happened with the husband and father, H. Smith, watching from the front porch of his parents' home 200 feet beyond (house shown). Dead are Mrs. Eddie Smith; Larry, 13; Jacquelyn, 4; Keith, 6; Debbie, 1; Skippie, 3; Beatrice Smit', the driver, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Smith, and the other five children were injured. The crowded Smith auto was struck by a Chicago-bound passenger train. (International)

World Today

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican party chiefs are taking the big gamble. They are planning for the 1956 presidential campaign on the assumption that President Eisenhower will agree to seek a second term.

To scramble a few metaphors, the GOP command is out on a limb—ready to sink or swim with their eggs in one basket.

At Republican national headquarters they say very candidly that there is just the one basis for all the preliminary campaign groundwork — and it is progressing rapidly.

L. Richard Guylay, GOP publicity chief, says: "The national committee is proceeding on the assumption that President Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate."

After the recent meeting of GOP state chairmen in Denver, some party leaders weren't so sure. Eisenhower warned them not to nail their flag so securely to one mast that if the ship sank, they couldn't rip it off and tie it to another.

But GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall listened to everything the President had to yas—and then announced he was more convinced than ever that Eisenhower would again head the ticket.

Actually, Republican leaders are ignoring Eisenhower's advice. They are nailing their flag securely to the Eisenhower mast while planning to capitalize on his personal popularity and the theme of "peace and prosperity."

Under these circumstances, it will place the Republicans on a fearfully embarrassing spot should Eisenhower not choose to run.

Those who think he won't make a second race put up this argument: Eisenhower is now 64. He may want to turn the job over to a younger man and retire to his Gettysburg farm, where he can enjoy the last years of his life. They also say Mrs. Eisenhower has had enough of the White House and doesn't want the President to shorten his life with another four years of the crushing burden of the presidency.

But on the other side, they argue Eisenhower has a high sense of duty and that his duty is to remain in the White House another four years to carry out the program he has begun. They argue Ike won't let the party down and that he has come to the point where he enjoys his job as well as the political game.

In the midst of such uncertainty, the Republican chiefs appear confident they know their man and what he will do at the proper time. One of them said: "We think we know our candidate — and the Democrats don't. This gives us an advantage in planning the campaign."

GEORGE GRABOW and his wife (right) and a neighbor sadly examine 16 head of Hereford and Holstein cattle, valued at $3,500, killed by a bolt of lightning during a severe thunderstorm. Because of the drought, Grabow had moved his cattle from his Whittemore, Mich., farm to the farm of Tom Wood, near McIvore, for pasture. (International)

U.S. Solon Claims Russians Distort Facts In 'Apology'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Joe Holt (R-Calif.) said today a Soviet note of apology for a Russian officer's pistol waving during the congressman's recent visit to Russia distorted the facts of the incident.

Holt released a slighty paraphrased text of the Soviet note, plus a statement of his own and pictures that he took in a Moscow suburb.

He said he had received State Department permission to issue the Russian note. The State Department indicated Wednesday it was willing to accept the Soviet apology, although not the Russian version of what happened.

The note from the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs accuses the congressman of taking photos "with clearly tendentious intentions." It says Holt asked one girl to pose with her hand outstreatched as though begging, and tried to take pcitures near a military structure Aug. 31. The note continued:

One citizen: N. I. Ryzhova, then called upon the officer, a Lt. Masyagin, for help. Lt. Masyagin asked Holt and an embassy official to come with him to his headquarters to await a superior officer who would rule on their credentials.

When the embassy official refused and instructed the chauffeur to drive off, the officer insisted, with drawn gun, that they stay. Arrival of a superior officer cut short the incident. After inspecting their documents, he begged their pardon.

The note concluded:

"In view of the circumstances, representatives of the local Soviet organs conducted themselves properly toward the American representatives.

"Regarding certain hasty actions of Lt. Masyagin, following the rudeness shown him by the American embassy official, demonstrated by the fact that Lt. Masyagin drew a revolver athough he did not use it threateningly, this conduct of Lt. Masyagin is worthy of regret. Correct disciplinary measures have been taken in regard to Lt. Masyagin."

Holt's statement said he was taking photos in an area which the Russian government had opened to foreigners and he did not ask the woman to pose as a beggar. "She was on her way to fill a kerosene bucket for fuel for the day's cooking."

Regarding citizen Ryzhova, Holt said he had asked her if he could photograph a school and a church. "There was no nearby military installation, unless it was in the church."

As for Lt. Masyagin, Holt said: "He wouldn't even look at our papers but puled out his pistol, cocked it, and began waving it around. We coudn't chase off because our chauffeur was Russian and he was on their side."

Holt said, while the Russian note claims the behavior of its citizens was correct, "the demeanor of the soldiers and local leaders was definitely anti-American and unfriendly."

Capt. McCutchen Is Back On Job

COLUMBUS (AP)—'I am a Marine first, last and always, and I won't get out until they let me go."

This was the remark of Capt. Richard McCutchen, the Worthington Marine who recently won $64,000 on a New York City television program, as he arrived home yesterday. A detachment of 45 Leathernecks greeted him.

"I am ready to go back to work," McCutchen declared.

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican party chiefs are taking the big gamble. They are planning for the 1956 presidential campaign on the assumption that President Eisenhower will agree to seek a second term.

To scramble a few metaphors, the GOP command is out on a limb—ready to sink or swim with their eggs in one basket.

At Republican national headquarters they say very candidly that there is just the one basis for all the preliminary campaign groundwork — and it is progressing rapidly.

L. Richard Guylay, GOP publicity chief, says: "The national committee is proceeding on the assumption that President Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate."

After the recent meeting of GOP state chairmen in Denver, some party leaders weren't so sure. Eisenhower warned them not to nail their flag so securely to one mast that if the ship sank, they couldn't rip it off and tie it to another.

But GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall listened to everything the President had to yas—and then announced he was more convinced than ever that Eisenhower would again head the ticket.

Actually, Republican leaders are ignoring Eisenhower's advice. They are nailing their flag securely to the Eisenhower mast while planning to capitalize on his personal popularity and the theme of "peace and prosperity."

Under these circumstances, it will place the Republicans on a fearfully embarrassing spot should Eisenhower not choose to run.

Those who think he won't make a second race put up this argument: Eisenhower is now 64. He may want to turn the job over to a younger man and retire to his Gettysburg farm, where he can enjoy the last years of his life. They also say Mrs. Eisenhower has had enough of the White House and doesn't want the President to shorten his life with another four years of the crushing burden of the presidency.

But on the other side, they argue Eisenhower has a high sense of duty and that his duty is to remain in the White House another four years to carry out the program he has begun. They argue Ike won't let the party down and that he has come to the point where he enjoys his job as well as the political game.

In the midst of such uncertainty, the Republican chiefs appear confident they know their man and what he will do at the proper time. One of them said: "We think we know our candidate — and the Democrats don't. This gives us an advantage in planning the campaign."

U.S. Solon Claims Russians Distort Facts In 'Apology'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Joe Holt (R-Calif.) said today a Soviet note of apology for a Russian officer's pistol waving during the congressman's recent visit to Russia distorted the facts of the incident.

Holt released a slighty paraphrased text of the Soviet note, plus a statement of his own and pictures that he took in a Moscow suburb.

He said he had received State Department permission to issue the Russian note. The State Department indicated Wednesday it was willing to accept the Soviet apology, although not the Russian version of what happened.

IMPORTANT ARTERY

IN THE LONG drawn out process of linking the Americas by highway, which is a better get-acquainted device than are air routes because of the slower pace and opportunity to meet more people, a new $110 million construction program is beginning.

This will provide a modern highway from the Mexico-Guatemala frontier to the Panama Canal.

Funds are provided by the United States and the Central American republics through which the highway passes. To be improved are 1,300 miles of roads now impassable or nearly so. An additional 277 miles of improved earth roads will be paved.

Work is to be started this year in Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama. Congress has authorized the U. S. Treasury to contribute the lion's share of the money needed, a whopping $63 million.

When this project is completed there will be an all-weather highway from Laredo, Texas, to the Panama Canal. In South America much of the Pan-American highway is already finished. There will remain a segment from the Panama Canal south to connect with the South American highway.

When completed this will be the longest highway in the world, an artery that will contribute greatly to the solidarity of the Western World.

NEW FARM DOLLAR

TEN YEARS AGO the farmer received 52 per cent of the consumer's food dollar. Today, with the cost of living in a slight uptrend and prices of farm commodities remaining stationary or receding because of overproduction, the farmer receives only 42 per cent of the retail food dollar.

The figure of 10 years ago was admittedly unusual. Government price-fixing at the retail level stopped the law of supply and demand from operating. But that is not the complete explanation.

This increasing farmer disadvantage in statistics is explained in part by high costs of processing frozen and other ready to serve "convenience foods" which are in growing demand in American homes. They are especially appealing to working wives, but they divert more of the family budget to food.

Ready-to-serve foods cost a third more than foods for home cooking but take only a fourth as much time to prepare, the Department of Agriculture reports.

So it appears that the farmer could enjoy rising prices for his products and still never get within gunshot of his 52-cent wartime share of the consumer dollar. Easy meal preparation has preempted former farmer territory.

If the French government falls, will it have Faure to go?

These Days

The importance of Tito in the affairs of the world rested on the solitary fact that he was the first and only important member of the Comintern that rebelled against the authority of the Kremlin and took his country, Yugoslavia, out of the Soviet Universal State. Josip Tito Broz accomplished this without rejecting Marxism.

He had adopted a thesis first propounded by Earl Browder in his insistence upon American exceptionalism, that Marxism could be national; that within the Marxist world all countries can be equal and different according to local conditions; that while it is true that the first country successfully to conduct a Marxist revolution was Soviet Russia, it did not mean that all Marxist countries were, because of that, necessarily subordinated to the Kremlin. Browder was dismissed from the Communist Party for this view, but Tito adopted it for Yugoslavia.

Tito challenged the authority of Stalin, as, for instance, Mao Tze-tung never did, and got away with it. He became the head of an independent and dissident state. His Marxism, however, was never more than schismatic. Tito never ceased to be a Communist; Yugoslavia remained a Marxist state. But there was a difference in attitude which inevitably resulted from disassociation with Soviet Russia.

The West applauded Tito and the United States provided gifts and credits. Tito became a strong man in Europe, stronger and more important than the size and strength of his country, Yugoslavia, warranted.

Part of his strength came from his membership in the Balkan Alliance of which Greece and Turkey are members. Although Tito is a neutral, he nevertheless has affiliations with NATO through the Balkan Alliance.

Russia has already paid Tito an enormous price to get him out of the Balkan Alliance and therefore out of NATO, but up to this moment, Tito has given no indication to warrant the assumption that he has changed his attitude concerning his relations with the West.

Should Tito leave the Balkan Alliance, the balance of power artfully established in Europe through the creation of NATO will be upset and Europe will be in such turmoil as it knew between 1945 and 1948. This makes Tito a very important personality to be courted by all sides — a role which he apparently enjoys very much and which gives his country an enormous advantage.

However, Soviet Russia has already gained two benefits:

1. By apologizing to Tito for his expulsion from the Cominform on the ground that he had been mistreated by Stalin (the name Beria was used), the Russians lessened the possibility of the organization of an anti-Kremlin Communist Alliance with Tito at its head, which would challenge the Kremlin's authority in the Soviet Universal State. Tito hoped that, in time, Mao Tze-tung would defect and join him in such a grouping of schismatic Marxist nations.

2. By developing closer relations between the Kremlin and Tito, Khrushchev has managed to put a real scare into the West. NATO needs Tito's 30 divisions and despite Tito's neutrality, counted on them through the Balkan Alliance. The NATO chiefs are now uncertain as to where Tito

DIET AND HEALTH

Keep Calm At Meals

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DON'T quarrel at the dinner table!

The roast may be burned, the potatoes may be lumpy and your mother-in-law may announce she plans to extend her stay—but don't quarrel at the dinner table. Frequent arguments while eating disturb your digestion as well as your emotions.

Functional Disturbances

Experiments have proved conclusively that the emotional state of a person profoundly affects the blood supply, the secretory functions, the motility and the stomach's emptying time.

If you are nervous, anxious, worried or otherwise excited, the nervous mechanism controlling your digestion usually is affected. In a state like this, you are apt to wind up with nervous dyspepsia, or nervous indigestion.

Stress and Overwork

This ailment is caused not only by excitement at mealtimes. Stress, overwork and strong emotional disturbances at any time produce nervous dyspepsia.

In addition to stomach distress, you may have headaches and become weak. You might be unable to concentrate and unable to sleep. Nausea and lack of appetite are frequent symptoms of nervous indigestion.

Many persons aggravate the condition by smoking or drinking more alcohol than usual.

Your stomach will return to normal only when your nervousness subsides. Phenobarbitone or amytal may be advised by your doctor to take the edge off your anxieties. Alkalies frequently relieve any symptoms caused by gastric acidity.

Small, dry meals, with only a little liquid, sometimes help. Don't drink coffee or tea excessively. Usually, a long restful holiday will do more good than drugs or dieting.

Restricted Diet

It is important, of course, that you seek treatment from your doctor. He can do more for you than just give you drugs or maybe put you on a restricted diet.

He can help alleviate many of your worries by proving to you that your ailment is not caused by some serious organic disease. And you know as well as I that most of us secretly fear there is something seriously wrong the moment we get stomach trouble.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. M. S.: Is there anything that will help a person get rid of liver spots?

Question: So-called liver spots or brown spots on the skin are really not due to any trouble with the liver.

Your physician should be consulted as to the most advisable method of removing such disfiguring blemishes.

MARRIAGE for THREE

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

THE DAY after the storm, because it was, after all, the week before Easter, the sun came out brightly, the sandlike snow blew off the streets and roads and evaporated dryly from the lawns and bushes. White still streaked the mountains, and skiing was fine.

When Adam came home from the Project the next evening he put a box upon Ann's lap. She opened it curiously, looking up at him in question.

"I wish you'd try to like the things out here," he explained. The box contained a fine Chimaya coat, thick, white, with a medallion in turquoise and terra cotta and black in the center of its swinging back. It was a beautiful coat, and expensive. Ann had priced one of its sort at Maisel's.

"I don't think you should, Adam," she said, going to try it on.

"Maybe I shouldn't," he said dryly. "But I did."

The gift puzzled Ann. It was almost as if Adam guessed the way she had felt during the storm. She wore the coat, but she couldn't get rid of her uneasy feeling of numb resentment. The habit had become too fixed. Adam could help her change her feeling. But, somehow giving her an expensive present was not the way.

She had not been out to the new house for some little time, and now she found herself unwilling to go at all. Someone—a woman at the church—praised the house and mentioned the many clever things about it, asked who the architect was. She'd love to have a house just like it! Ann was so lucky!

Ann made some sort of reply; she didn't actually say that the house was not hers, even though she might some day live in it. Yet in her heart she knew that the features the woman admired and mentioned were Pinky's ideas, mostly.

Red flared hotly into Ann's cheeks. There was one thing sure! Adam might not need or use an architect, but his women—he used them!

Though by this time Ann disliked Pinky, she continued to see something of her. Pinky till came to the house in a casual fashion. Ann met her on the street, and sometimes the women arranged to meet. One morning, on an impulse that she did not herself understand, Ann phoned Pinky and asked her to eat lunch at La Fonda.

Pinky agreed; it was sweet of Ann to suggest a party. She set the phone back on the table, and lay regarding the end of her bed. "She's blind," Pinky said aloud. "Or dumb." She heaved herself up from the sheets. "Or both," she decided.

But maybe the luncheon date would be a way to get the matter between herself and Ann's husband out in the open. With this in mind, she opened the door of the painted chest, and drew out the Fiesta dress.

Ann had said one o'clock. It was fifteen minutes after the hour when Pinky came into the dining room. She looked ravishing. The blue dress fitted her like a glove, her bare shoulders gleamed pale gold, her incredible hair flamed.

A group of men at one of the big round tables rose in a body and bowed to her. Pinky smiled at them, winked, and went on across the room to where Ann sat on the banquette. Ann pushed the tile-topped table away enough for Pinky to get in behind it.

Pinky was still laughing. "Boys will be boys," she said gaily. "Have you ordered?"

"No, of course not. D'you want a drink?"

"I guess not, if you don't." She eyed Ann's dress. It was of printed silk, white on brown. Ann's hair was longer, and today she wore no hat. She looked pretty good, Pinky commented.

"Your dress is beautiful," Ann returned the compliment. "Maybe it's the same blue one Adam tried to make me get last fall."

"Oh?" said Pinky, digging into her shrimp cocktail.

"I won't pay their prices, for a cotton dress."

"They are terrific—but then all these ruffles mean work."

"I know." Ann's attention was on a woman who had just come into the dining room. Thin, tall, her hair was dramatically silver, and it hung to the shoulders of her fringed leather jacket. She wore tailored frontier pants, soft custom-made boots; she was suntanned browner than the jacket. A Stetson hat hung by a thong between her shoulders. Boldly she looked the room over, boldly she smiled at one of the men at the round table.

"Hello," she said throatily.

"Marlene herself," drawled Pinky. "And quite good at it, too."

The woman was good. By the time their entree was brought "Marlene herself" had been joined by the man she had selected, and the two were seated at a small table in the far corner.

"Nice work!" said Pinky admiringly.

Ann turned her shocked face. "The woman's a tramp!"

"Oh, sure." Pinky lifted the lid of the little red casserole. "But who wants to be a lady?"

Ann thought that every woman did, and she said so emphatically.

Pinky laughed. "The line's all right," she said indifferently, "if it gets a gal what she wants. But you'll have to admit, darling, that it's never much fun."

Ann sat thinking. "By fun," she said analytically, "you mean men."

Pinky lifted a smiling face. "What else?"

"But that's the point," said Ann earnestly. "Men want their women to be—I don't mean tramps or pick-ups—" her smooth brown head indicated the silver-haired girl in the corner, "but their particular women, their wives, sweet hearts—they want them to be ladies."

Pinky sat back, turned about on the bench so that she could look at the girl beside her. "Men want fun, too," she said flatly. Then a spark snapped in her eyes. "Of course," she conceded, "if you ask the brute, why, he'll say, 'Certainly I want my wife to be a lady. To look like one in a white hat and white gloves, and to act like one.' But if he's given any choice," she laughed gaily, "he'll amuse himself with a plunging neckline, or frills."

Ann sat very still. Not indignant, not angry—just very thoughtful. Was that why Adam . . .? Didn't he want her to wear a white hat? Pinky was right—about one thing, Ann knew. Should she ask Adam, he'd say, yes, he wanted a lady.

But did he?

She'd looked nice in that hat. She'd almost worn it today. Did the hat symbolize the fault Adam seemed to find with his wife, lately? Did he want her to be—more fun? To show more ease with people? Not boldness. But ease. Ann herself wished that she made friends more easily. Adam never had difficulty. No one was a stranger to Adam Laird.

But Ann was shy— and there was the idea of being ladylike—it had been a handicap since coming to New Mexico. Well, she could try being "easy."

She was too preoccupied with these thoughts and this resolution to realize fully the personal application of Pinky's remark. They finished their lunch, Ann paid the check. The waitress returned her change, and she gave Ann the red geraniums from the vase on their table.

Ann was carrying these in her hand as she passed the round table where the group of men still lingered.

"Isn't she pretty!" one of them commented quietly, but his deep voice carried clearly to Pinky's ears.

Pinky tossed her head.

"I like women who can wear brown," the voice continued. "I always think . . ."

Pinky's long stride carried her angrily out of earshot.

Taboo Remarks For Wives

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Yes, But—."

"Good morning. How do you feel?"

"What do you think I ought to do about fixing up the living room?"

"Don't you think you've spread enough joy for one evening?"

"You're wrong!"

These are five remarks Lauren Bacall says a wise wife should never make to her husband.

When the young, tawny blonde actress married Humphrey Bogart, nearly 25 years her senior, Hollywood cynics bet on whether the match would last 10 months or ten days.

Ten years and two children later, however, Lauren and Bogie are having more fun together than two merry fleas on a shaggy dog. Somewhat to her own amazement Miss Bacall is now regarded as an authority on matrimony.

Much has been written on how she tamed "the bad boy" of the movies, and she herself says that's utter nonsense.

"It's foolish to try to change the man you're married to," she said. "That won't make him better—it will make him worse."

"Let him run wild. He'll always come home then."

She glanced cheerfully over at Bogart, who was standing at the bar talking baseball with some friends. She and her husband had come to town the night to celebrate completion of her latest film, "Blood Alley."

"If a man has been drinking a little bit, it doesn't pay to disagree with him. It only means you'll both be up all night, and you'll end up with circles under your eyes."

Bogart came over, said, "hiya doin', Sam?" to Miss Bacall, and wandered back to the bar, bourbon and baseball.

"To think I've given that guy one third of my active life," said Lauren, grinning. "But I'm tougher to live with than he is. I'm more selfish. He's very patient with me.

"If I'd married a younger man, he wouldn't have put up with me. I'd have probably killed him or we'd have killed each other."

Miss Bacall said she knew of no single prescription for marital happiness—"I don't believe in formulas; everybody's an individual and has the right to stay one"—but that she believed a wife should join in as many of her husband's activities as possible.

"But there are limits," she added. "Bogie loves yachting, and I—well, I—." She shuddered to indicate she likes water only in containers smaller than the Pacific Ocean.

Miss Bacall says it's a mistake to annoy a husband with household matters and gave this reason why a wife should also never ask him how he feels in the morning:

"He knows how he feels. Why remind him of it?"

Asked whether she thought a husband should help his wife dry dishes and share other kitchen chores, she gave a wonderful belly laugh and said frankly:

"I don't know. I don't go into the kitchen myself if I can help it."

What are the five remarks a wife should make most often to her husband to keep peace in the family? Miss Bacall, letting out with another fine belly laugh, gave these:

"Yes, darling, yes."

"You're absolutely right. I couldn't agree with you more."

"You were perfectly charming last night. No, I'm not kidding. I really mean it. Everyone simply loved what you said."

"If it weren't for you, how would I have all these lovely things: our nice big house, our beautiful car, even our children?"

"Now don't move. Sit there. You're comfortable. Is there anything I can get for you—like a double-edged saw, or something?"

Miss Bacall's ideas may seem strange to some wives. But there's one thing about them. They work. After 10 years she still has a happy husband.

IMPORTANT ARTERY

IN THE LONG drawn out process of linking the Americas by highway, which is a better get-acquainted device than are air routes because of the slower pace and opportunity to meet more people, a new $110 million construction program is beginning.

This will provide a modern highway from the Mexico-Guatemala frontier to the Panama Canal.

Funds are provided by the United States and the Central American republics through which the highway passes. To be improved are 1,300 miles of roads now impassable or nearly so. An additional 277 miles of improved earth roads will be paved.

Work is to be started this year in Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama. Congress has authorized the U. S. Treasury to contribute the lion's share of the money needed, a whopping $63 million.

When this project is completed there will be an all-weather highway from Laredo, Texas, to the Panama Canal. In South America much of the Pan-American highway is already finished. There will remain a segment from the Panama Canal south to connect with the South American highway.

When completed this will be the longest highway in the world, an artery that will contribute greatly to the solidarity of the Western World.

NEW FARM DOLLAR

TEN YEARS AGO the farmer received 52 per cent of the consumer's food dollar. Today, with the cost of living in a slight uptrend and prices of farm commodities remaining stationary or receding because of overproduction, the farmer receives only 42 per cent of the retail food dollar.

The figure of 10 years ago was admittedly unusual. Government price-fixing at the retail level stopped the law of supply and demand from operating. But that is not the complete explanation.

This increasing farmer disadvantage in statistics is explained in part by high costs of processing frozen and other ready to serve "convenience foods" which are in growing demand in American homes. They are especially appealing to working wives, but they divert more of the family budget to food.

Ready-to-serve foods cost a third more than foods for home cooking but take only a fourth as much time to prepare, the Department of Agriculture reports.

So it appears that the farmer could enjoy rising prices for his products and still never get within gunshot of his 52-cent wartime share of the consumer dollar. Easy meal preparation has preempted former farmer territory.

If the French government falls, will it have Faure to go?

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The importance of Tito in the affairs of the world rested on the solitary fact that he was the first and only important member of the Comintern that rebelled against the authority of the Kremlin and took his country, Yugoslavia, out of the Soviet Universal State. Josip Tito Broz accomplished this without rejecting Marxism.

He had adopted a thesis first propounded by Earl Browder in his insistence upon American exceptionalism, that Marxism could be national; that within the Marxist world all countries can be equal and different according to local conditions; that while it is true that the first country successfully to conduct a Marxist revolution was Soviet Russia, it did not mean that all Marxist countries were, because of that, necessarily subordinated to the Kremlin. Browder was dismissed from the Communist Party for this view, but Tito adopted it for Yugoslavia.

Tito challenged the authority of Stalin, as, for instance, Mao Tze-tung never did, and got away with it. He became the head of an independent and dissident state. His Marxism, however, was never more than schismatic. Tito never ceased to be a Communist; Yugoslavia remained a Marxist state. But there was a difference in attitude which inevitably resulted from disassociation with Soviet Russia.

The West applauded Tito and the United States provided gifts and credits. Tito became a strong man in Europe, stronger and more important than the size and strength of his country, Yugoslavia, warranted.

Part of his strength came from his membership in the Balkan Alliance of which Greece and Turkey are members. Although Tito is a neutral, he nevertheless has affiliations with NATO through the Balkan Alliance.

Russia has already paid Tito an enormous price to get him out of the Balkan Alliance and therefore out of NATO, but up to this moment, Tito has given no indication to warrant the assumption that he has changed his attitude concerning his relations with the West.

Should Tito leave the Balkan Alliance, the balance of power artfully established in Europe through the creation of NATO will be upset and Europe will be in such turmoil as it knew between 1945 and 1948. This makes Tito a very important personality to be courted by all sides — a role which he apparently enjoys very much and which gives his country an enormous advantage.

However, Soviet Russia has already gained two benefits:

1. By apologizing to Tito for his expulsion from the Cominform on the ground that he had been mistreated by Stalin (the name Beria was used), the Russians lessened the possibility of the organization of an anti-Kremlin Communist Alliance with Tito at its head, which would challenge the Kremlin's authority in the Soviet Universal State. Tito hoped that, in time, Mao Tze-tung would defect and join him in such a grouping of schismatic Marxist nations.

2. By developing closer relations between the Kremlin and Tito, Khrushchev has managed to put a real scare into the West. NATO needs Tito's 30 divisions and despite Tito's neutrality, counted on them through the Balkan Alliance. The NATO chiefs are now uncertain as to where Tito

DIET AND HEALTH

Keep Calm At Meals

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DON'T quarrel at the dinner table!

The roast may be burned, the potatoes may be lumpy and your mother-in-law may announce she plans to extend her stay—but don't quarrel at the dinner table. Frequent arguments while eating disturb your digestion as well as your emotions.

Functional Disturbances

Experiments have proved conclusively that the emotional state of a person profoundly affects the blood supply, the secretory functions, the motility and the stomach's emptying time.

If you are nervous, anxious, worried or otherwise excited, the nervous mechanism controlling your digestion usually is affected. In a state like this, you are apt to wind up with nervous dyspepsia, or nervous indigestion.

Stress and Overwork

This ailment is caused not only by excitement at mealtimes. Stress, overwork and strong emotional disturbances at any time produce nervous dyspepsia.

In addition to stomach distress, you may have headaches and become weak. You might be unable to concentrate and unable to sleep. Nausea and lack of appetite are frequent symptoms of nervous indigestion.

Many persons aggravate the condition by smoking or drinking more alcohol than usual.

Your stomach will return to normal only when your nervousness subsides. Phenobarbitone or amytal may be advised by your doctor to take the edge off your anxieties. Alkalies frequently relieve any symptoms caused by gastric acidity.

Small, dry meals, with only a little liquid, sometimes help. Don't drink coffee or tea excessively. Usually, a long restful holiday will do more good than drugs or dieting.

Restricted Diet

It is important, of course, that you seek treatment from your doctor. He can do more for you than just give you drugs or maybe put you on a restricted diet.

He can help alleviate many of your worries by proving to you that your ailment is not caused by some serious organic disease. And you know as well as I that most of us secretly fear there is something seriously wrong the moment we get stomach trouble.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. M. S.: Is there anything that will help a person get rid of liver spots?

Question: So-called liver spots or brown spots on the skin are really not due to any trouble with the liver.

Your physician should be consulted as to the most advisable method of removing such disfiguring blemishes.

MARRIAGE for THREE

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

THE DAY after the storm, because it was, after all, the week before Easter, the sun came out brightly, the sandlike snow blew off the streets and roads and evaporated dryly from the lawns and bushes. White still streaked the mountains, and skiing was fine.

When Adam came home from the Project the next evening he put a box upon Ann's lap. She opened it curiously, looking up at him in question.

"I wish you'd try to like the things out here," he explained. The box contained a fine Chimaya coat, thick, white, with a medallion in turquoise and terra cotta and black in the center of its swinging back. It was a beautiful coat, and expensive. Ann had priced one of its sort at Maisel's.

"I don't think you should, Adam," she said, going to try it on.

"Maybe I shouldn't," he said dryly. "But I did."

The gift puzzled Ann. It was almost as if Adam guessed the way she had felt during the storm. She wore the coat, but she couldn't get rid of her uneasy feeling of numb resentment. The habit had become too fixed. Adam could help her change her feeling. But, somehow giving her an expensive present was not the way.

She had not been out to the new house for some little time, and now she found herself unwilling to go at all. Someone—a woman at the church—praised the house and mentioned the many clever things about it, asked who the architect was. She'd love to have a house just like it! Ann was so lucky!

Ann made some sort of reply; she didn't actually say that the house was not hers, even though she might some day live in it. Yet in her heart she knew that the features the woman admired and mentioned were Pinky's ideas, mostly.

Red flared hotly into Ann's cheeks. There was one thing sure! Adam might not need or use an architect, but his women—he used them!

Though by this time Ann disliked Pinky, she continued to see something of her. Pinky till came to the house in a casual fashion. Ann met her on the street, and sometimes the women arranged to meet. One morning, on an impulse that she did not herself understand, Ann phoned Pinky and asked her to eat lunch at La Fonda.

Pinky agreed; it was sweet of Ann to suggest a party. She set the phone back on the table, and lay regarding the end of her bed. "She's blind," Pinky said aloud. "Or dumb." She heaved herself up from the sheets. "Or both," she decided.

"To think I've given that guy one third of my active life," said Lauren, grinning. "But I'm tougher to live with than he is. I'm more selfish. He's very patient with me.

"If I'd married a younger man, he wouldn't have put up with me. I'd have probably killed him or we'd have killed each other."

Miss Bacall said she knew of no single prescription for marital happiness—"I don't believe in formulas; everybody's an individual and has the right to stay one"—but that she believed a wife should join in as many of her husband's activities as possible.

"But there are limits," she added. "Bogie loves yachting, and I—well, I—." She shuddered to indicate she likes water only in containers smaller than the Pacific Ocean.

Miss Bacall says it's a mistake to annoy a husband with household matters and gave this reason why a wife should also never ask him how he feels in the morning:

"He knows how he feels. Why remind him of it?"

Asked whether she thought a husband should help his wife dry dishes and share other kitchen chores, she gave a wonderful belly laugh and said frankly:

"I don't know. I don't go into the kitchen myself if I can help it."

What are the five remarks a wife should make most often to her husband to keep peace in the family? Miss Bacall, letting out with another fine belly laugh, gave these:

"Yes, darling, yes."

"You're absolutely right. I couldn't agree with you more."

"You were perfectly charming last night. No, I'm not kidding. I really mean it. Everyone simply loved what you said."

"If it weren't for you, how would I have all these lovely things: our nice big house, our beautiful car, even our children?"

"Now don't move. Sit there. You're comfortable. Is there anything I can get for you—like a double-edged saw, or something?"

Miss Bacall's ideas may seem strange to some wives. But there's one thing about them. They work. After 10 years she still has a happy husband.

Judge Radcliff Is Speaker At Session Of DAR Chapter

National Defense Is Discussed

Forty members and guests were present when Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its first Fall meeting in the home of Mrs. J. B. Stevenson. A board meeting preceeded the opening of the regular meeting.

The session was opened in ritualistic form by the regent, Miss Marie Hamilton, assisted by the chaplain, Mrs. Christian Schwarz. The national anthem was sung in unison, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Peters. In the absence of the flag chairman, Mrs. Schwarz led a pledge to the flag.

Highlights of the meeting were a report on national defense by Mrs. Paul H. Gearheart, and an address by Judge William D. Radcliff on, "The Constitution."

In her report on national defense, Mrs. Gearheart said that there is new work for a new year. The theme chosen by the National Defense committee, headed by Mrs. James B. Patton of Columbus, is, "Protect America's Future Through Patriotic Education."

Mrs. Gearheart continued her report by saying that we need to promote Americanism in all phases, to celebrate our patriotic holidays, and to know our schools and the books which our children and grandchildren are studying to make certain that the history of our nation and the story of our patriots are taught in the American way.

She listed vital issues mentioned at a Central District meeting, held in Chillicothe as: the study and adoption of the Bricker Amendment; the protection of the McCarran Walter Immigration Law; the rescinding of the Status of Forces treaty and a study of the amendment of Senate Bill 394.

In conclusion, Mrs. Gearheart asked her audience to remember that the Daughters of the American Revolution has been rated by General Douglas McArthur as the strongest force for peace and understanding of political issues in the United States, among women's organizations.

Mrs. H. O. Pile, a member of the program committee, introduced Judge Radcliff, guest speaker. He stated that on Sept. 17, 1787 work was completed on the Constitution, which contained only seven articles, and was ratified by a sufficient number of states in 1791.

There have been 12 amendments to the Constitution since 1791—four dealt with elections and the Civil War produced three.

Judge Radcliff continued by saying that we all know the simplicity of language which the Constitution embodies, the general terms and how it came about, like all great successes, whether in education, business or government, from the effort or greatness or some man or men.

The speaker concluded with a discussion of the man he feels made the Constitution what it is today, John Marshall, who was Justice of the Supreme Court for 34 years. He stated that we can all thank John Marshall for his unswerving loyalty to his country and for his farsightedness and his honesty, which made possible the liberty we each enjoy in the greatest country in the world.

Mrs. Joseph Peters spoke on the history of Stephen Foster, and Mrs. David Dill, sang three of his selections, accompanied by Mrs. Peters.

At the conclusion of the program the reports of the officers were given. Miss Florence Dunton, magazine chairman, urged all members to subscribe to the DAR news and the national DAR magazine. A budget for the ensuing year was read by Mrs. Gearheart and was adopted.

It was announced by Mrs. R. Rea Bales that there will be flags for sale during the Pumpkin Show in the Herschel Hill show room on E. Franklin St. Miss Hamilton announced that Thomas Lloyd is to be the guest speaker at an October meeting. His topic is to be "The Narcotics Problem in Ohio." Mrs. William T. Ulm will discuss national defense.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Robert Knode, historian, and Miss Dorothy MacArthur, librarian, were installed by Mrs. G. I. Nickerson. Closing prayer was led by Mrs. Schwarz.

Assisting hostesses were: Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Chester Rocky, Mrs. Nickerson, Mrs. Donald Watt, Mrs. George Armstrong, Miss Florence Bowsher, Miss Martha Warner, Miss Bertha Warner and Mrs. Eldred Cayce.

Saltcreek Grange Conducts Election Of New Officers

The Saltcreek Valley Grange met in regular form in the Saltcreek School building, with election of officers as the highlight.

Results of the election were as follows:

Master, Donald DeLong; overseer, Judson Beougher; lecturer, Mrs. Russell Miller; steward, Francis Bowsher; assistant steward, Paul Hartly, and lady assistant steward, Mrs. Melvin Armstrong.

Chaplain, Mrs. Ira Stump; treasurer, Orley Judy; secretary, Mrs. Randolph Wolfe; gate keeper, Dwight Beougher; Ceres, Shirley Arledge; Flora, Wanda Maxson; Pomona, Edith Defenbaugh; pianist, William Rihl; assistant pianist, Mrs. O. S. Mowery and legislative agent, Russell Miller.

Committee chairmen named during the session are: Home Economics, Mrs. Judson Beougher, and youth co-chairmen, Larry and Dwight Beougher.

A discussion was held for a games party in the near future, the proceeds to go toward a fund for new Regalia, which have been purchased by the Grange.

A youth installation team will install the newly-elected officers on Oct. 4. This team consists of youth from every Grange in the county. A good attendance has been requested for this meeting.

Legion Auxiliary Entertains Vets In Chillicothe

The members of the local American Legion Auxiliary held their first Fall party for the patients in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Chillicothe.

A total of 50 patients was entertained during the evening with a program of music, dancing and party refreshments. Eighty magazines, contributed to the Auxiliary by citizens of the community, were presented to the hospital library.

Plans were made by the group to entertain the veterans with a Hallowe'en party on Oct. 17.

Those attending the event were: Mrs. Stanley Peters, party chairman; Mrs. Leonard Morgan, assistant party chairman; Mrs. Bess Simison, auxiliary president; Miss Maggie Mavis, Mrs. Edna Moon, Mrs. Norman Ritter, Miss Beverly Bell, Mrs. Mary Hedges and Mrs. Louis Hitler.

SHE didn't win the $64,000 question, but Mrs. Veronica Hartnett gasps in surprise as she receives notification she won $5,575 for a suggestion in handling and selection of liver at Chicago meat packing plant. A stenographer, the suggestion came in field far from her normal duties. (International)

Frankfort Dinner Fetes Irven Dyer On 80th Birthday

A basket dinner celebrated the 80th birthday of Irven Dyer in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Howard Mosely of Frankfort Route 2.

Mr. Dyer, who is a patient in the Main Street Rest Home in Chillicothe, and Mrs. Dyer, who resides on Williamsport Route 2, were honored guests at the affair. Nine of their 10 children were present for the event. They also have 42 grandchildren and 40 great grandchildren.

Present for the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Dyer; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Atwood, of Williamsport Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Alva C. Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Barr and son, all of Circleville Route 1.

Mrs. Alva Higley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Higley and son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gearhart and son, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gearhart, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dyer, James Dyer, Mrs. R. E. Kline and sons and Mrs. Melvin McCloy and family, all of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale DePugh and family, Mrs. Raymond Copenhaver and family, Mrs. Barbara Summers and son and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGarney and family, also of Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kempton and family of Londonderry; Mrs. Frances Clendenin of Fairborn and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Mosley and family.

A fruit must contain acid and the right amount of pectin in order to jell. Fruits such as peaches, pears and quinces have pectin but lack acid; strawberries, cherries, currants, pineapple and rhubarb have acid but lack pectin. Therefore, combinations of the above would be most suitable for tasty jelly.

Ashville Post Hosts District Legion Auxiliary Convention

The Auxiliary to Post 730 of Ashville was host to a Fall convention of the seventh district of the American Legion Auxiliary, which was held in the Ashville United Brethren church.

Mrs. Link Brown, local unit president, opened the session following registration of nearly 100 members and guests. Advancement of colors was conducted by Mrs. Robert Courtright, Mrs. M. R. Radford and little Miss Pamela Brown, junior color bearer.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. John Hoffines, followed by singing of the national anthem. Invocation, given by Mrs. Edward Roese, was followed by taps and silent prayer for the dead.

Addresses of welcome were given by Mrs. Brown, Commander Willard Foreman and District Commander W. D. Miller. Reports on phases of each department were given by the district chairmen.

The Americanism chairman told her audience that there are 17 days in the year when the American flag should be displayed. She stated that "F" stands for Faith; "L" for Loyalty; "A" for Amo, a Latin word meaning love, and "G" for the Glory of our country.

Reports also were heard from the chairmen of the child welfare, community service, and rehabilitation chairmen. Mrs. Howard Mace, seventh district chairman, gave highlights on membership in the Legion Auxiliary.

The legislative department chairman, Mrs. W. D. Miller, also gave a short talk on her department. Roll call of each unit was made by Mrs. Eugene Wilson, secretary of the Ashville unit.

Highlight of the afternoon session was an address by the department president, Mrs. C. J. Ailstock, who opened her talk by asking the members to put "Christ" back in Christmas.

She discussed at length the poppy, which is made by crippled veterans, and stressed the fact that the funds received for poppy sales are set aside from other funds and are never used for anything but child welfare and rehabilitation, much of which stays in the community.

Mrs. Robert Bartholomew and Mrs. Robert Bausum presided at the tea table, following adjournment of the convention. They were assisted in serving by the members of unit 730.

Highlight of the afternoon session was an address by the department president, Mrs. C. J. Ailstock, who opened her talk by asking the members to put "Christ" back in Christmas.

She discussed at length the poppy, which is made by crippled veterans, and stressed the fact that the funds received for poppy sales are set aside from other funds and are never used for anything but child welfare and rehabilitation, much of which stays in the community.

Mrs. Robert Bartholomew and Mrs. Robert Bausum presided at the tea table, following adjournment of the convention. They were assisted in serving by the members of unit 730.

Cancer Society Names Officers

The annual dinner meeting of the Cancer Society of Pickaway County was held in Pickaway Arms, with 16 members in attendance.

Election of officers highlighted the session. Dr. J. A. Cunningham, chairman of a nominating committee, presented a slate of officers, who were elected as follows:

The Rev. Jack Bennett, president; Miss Margaret Goode, vice president; Mrs. Carl Purcell, secretary, and Mrs. Francis McGinnis, treasurer.

The Rev. Mr. Bennett was named to serve as a delegate at a training program for the society, to be held Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 1 in the Netherland-Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati.

Elks Lodge Members Honor Ladies With Dinner-Dance

A total of 250 persons attended an annual Fall "Ladies Night", conducted by the members of the Elks lodge in the lodge home.

The ladies were greeted at the door by members of a hospitality committee, who presented them with corsages of carnations. Arrangements of Fall flowers formed centerpieces on the tables and large floral arrangements formed a background for the event.

A color scheme of green, brown, yellow and orange was used in the decorations, in keeping with the Fall theme of the event.

Following a chicken dinner, the assembled members and their guests danced to the music of the Marion Carle Combo of Columbus.

Serving as hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. D. S. Goldschmidt, Mrs. William Rickey, Mrs. Larry Curl, Mrs. Russell Ward and Mrs. James Yost.

The affair was arranged and conducted by the members of the house and entertainment committees of the lodge, which include: Harry Clifton, Paul Hang, Walter Garner, Bill Betts, Robert Wood, Otto Guenther, Leon Sims, Dr. William Rickey, Dr. D. S. Goldschmidt, Russell Ward, James Yost and Larry Curl.

Renewed Allegiance to the Law

EZRA'S READING THE WORD OF GOD RESULTED IN A GREAT REVIVAL

Scripture—Nehemiah 8; 9; 10:28-39; Ezekiel 20:19-20.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THIRTEEN years before today's lesson begins, the scribe Ezra had been sent to Jerusalem on a mission of inspection. About 1,700 men accompanied him, among them some few whom he had persuaded to belong to the lower order of Levites.

He was able to accomplish some reforms, including the divorcing of Israelites from foreign women. What became of Ezra after this visit we do not know. Possibly, it has been suggested, he went back to Babylon in grief of the condition of his people and their indifference to Jehovah.

Since the first great revival, told to us in the seventh chapter of Nehemiah, seven years have gone by. Ezra has returned to Jerusalem (if he ever left it), and the people gathered together in the street before the water gate and asked Ezra to read to them the Book of the Law.

Ezra stood on a pulpit of wood which had been made for him, and he opened the book and read the laws of God to the assembled multitude, who listened attentively.

After the reading the people answered: "Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands; and they bowed their heads, and worshiped the Lord with their faces to the ground."

So touched were the people with the reading and interpretation of God's laws, explained to them by Nehemiah and Ezra, that they wept. They were told not to weep for "this day is holy unto the Lord," therefore rejoice, feast and be merry. So the people went home to feast and be happy.

On further hearing of the law, the people learned that they were instructed to celebrate the Feast of the Tabernacles in booths, so they gathered olive branches, and pine branches, branches of myrtle and palm, also branches of thick trees, and made booths upon the roofs of their houses and sat under the booths, "and there was great gladness." The feast lasted seven days.

"Now in the twenty and fourth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth clothes and earth upon them.

"And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers."

Toward the end of the prayers of confession, the people were commanded to stand up and bless the Lord their God, and the whole history of the blessings which Jehovah had bestowed upon them from their creation unto that day were reviewed. Then a covenant was made and written and the princes, Levites and priests put their seal upon it.

The people of Israel then promised not to marry their daughters or sons to foreign people; also to observe the law concerning their offerings to the Lord—giving the firstfruits of all they produced and tithes in all the cities; also the heave-offering of the new wine and oil.

"I am the Lord your God; walk in My statutes, and keep My judgments, and do them."

So the people of Israel turned back from their idolatrous ways and once more worshiped God who had forgiven and blessed them.

Bible Words To Live By

PHILIPPIANS 3:14—"I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus." (RSV)

* * *

What is the purpose of the Christian church? What goals is it trying to reach? We in the church need to constantly ask ourselves these questions.

How do we judge the effectiveness of our church? Is success based on the number on the church roll? Do we take excessive pride in successful financial campaigns? Do we ever stop to think whether our many activities are meaningful or if they are just busy work? Are we being helped at our points of need?

The church must state its objectives clearly. It must press forward toward the supreme goal which is the upward call of God in Christ Jesus. Not only personal lives but society as well would be redeemed if we would apply Paul's earnestness and sincerity of purpose to the solving of our problems—personal problems, problems of the family, education, conservation of resources, industry, government, and international relations.

Renewed Allegiance to the Law — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Nehemiah 8; 9; 10:28-39; Ezekiel 20:19-20.

Thirteen years before our lesson begins, Ezra the scribe was sent from Babylon to Jerusalem on a mission of inspection. He gathered a large company who wished to return with him.

Thirteen years later all the people of Jerusalem gathered together in the street before the water gate and requested Ezra to read to them the book of the law.

The people wept when they heard the words of the law, but Ezra, Nehemiah and the Levites told them not to weep, for this was a holy day and they should rejoice.

A great feast was kept for seven days, then the people assembled with sackcloth and earth upon them and confessed their sins and worshipped their God.

Renewed Allegiance to the Law — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Nehemiah 8; 9; 10:28-39; Ezekiel 20:19-20.

Thirteen years before our lesson begins, Ezra the scribe was sent from Babylon to Jerusalem on a mission of inspection. He gathered a large company who wished to return with him.

Thirteen years later all the people of Jerusalem gathered together in the street before the water gate and requested Ezra to read to them the book of the law.

The people wept when they heard the words of the law, but Ezra, Nehemiah and the Levites told them not to weep, for this was a holy day and they should rejoice.

A great feast was kept for seven days, then the people assembled with sackcloth and earth upon them and confessed their sins and worshipped their God.

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 119:34.

If football's here—is winter far behind?

Football games:::falling leaves:::birds heading south—they're all sure signs that winter will soon be here. If you want to have a warm, comfortable winter—act now! We've been working all summer so that we'll be ready to bring you winter comfort—we compete for your business by offering you top-flight service—the kind of service America's progressive oil industry is famous for. Our automatic delivery system helps us do our job. Inquire about it if you are not getting automatic delivery now.

Here are 4 helpful hints on how you can save money, save fuel oil:

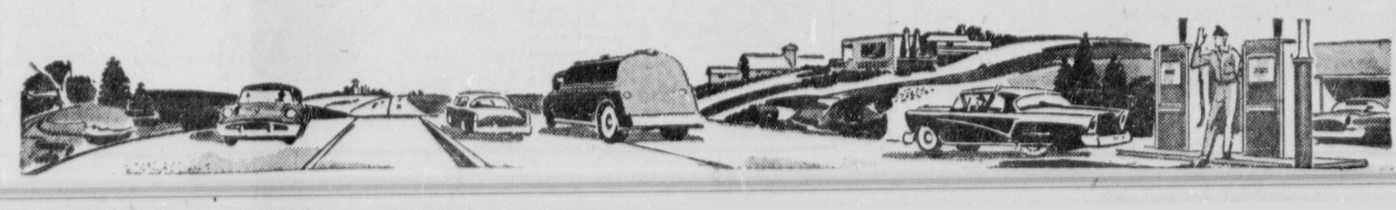

1. Have your heating system checked regularly to be sure you're getting the most efficient use of your fuel oil.
2. Install storm windows and insulation to keep heat in . . . cold out.
3. Keep doors and windows closed, close off rooms not in use and draw shades at night.
4. Keep room temperature at moderate level—turn thermostat down at night.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A young fashion model, a very decent and respectable girl, is suspected by her mother-in-law—who is ready to believe the worst—of being indecent and perhaps immoral in the course of her professional activity.

The mother-in-law threatens to break up the girl's marriage unless she stops modeling at once. But the girl must continue modeling because her husband is in the military service, and meantime she is saving her modeling fees to buy a house they will occupy when he returns.

As a friend of the couple, I am interested in helping, if possible. Is there a solution that you know of?

R.D.

DEAR R. D.: Evidently the mother-in-law is a dourly jealous, sexually dissatisfied person—angrily envious of her daughter-in-law's youth and attractiveness, and ability to keep herself happily and fruitfully occupied during the husband's absence. She probably feels "it isn't fair" that the girl should be leading a self-reliant full life (of sorts) while Sonny is elsewhere enduring the lonely austerities of military training.

As for what the wife should do about the mother's jaundiced suspicions and ugly ultimatum, my advice is, ignore them. I see no sound reason whatsoever for knuckling under to her evil thinking. Indeed, to surrender to her "rule or ruin" threat, in attempted peacemaking, would be to demonstrate character weakness.

If the girl proves so weak, so lacking in moral stamina and self-esteem, that she can be pushed around by this "mom"-in-law who uses defamation as her big stick, then she is also too weak to be trusted on her own in the business world, perhaps. She would be a pushover for other wrong influences, probably.

However, I hope for her sake that she has the inner strength and self-esteem to maintain her rights in this hassle. And among her indisputable rights is the right to work in any reputable field (fashion modeling is one), without getting a license from her mother-in-law to do so.

If the man in the case is such a poor creature, so dispossessed of manhood, that his mother can wreck his marriage at will, then the relationship isn't worth having—. and the girl shouldn't truckle trying to save it. She had just as well let events prove his worth, beginning now with the mother's ultimatum. Which means that she, the wife, should continue her work as outlined — assuming her motivation is innocent, as you say.

M. H.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Some weeks ago you were thanked by a correspondent for calling attention to a book that brought her daughter out of despair, after having lost a child. Kindly repeat the information about this book—I believe the author's name is Helen Chappell Smith—and tell me where to get it; for I too need a lift out of despair.

B. L.

DEAR B. L.: The book "With Wings as Eagles" is authored by Mrs. Helen Chappell White (not Smith); and published by Rinehart & Company, New York City; price $2.75. Libraries and bookstores offer it; or the Service Department of the publishing house might furnish a copy by mail, on receipt of a postoffice money order to cover the price of the book plus postage costs.

M.H.

ould stand in a clinch. They do not know. Maybe Tito does not know. All the guessing is beneficial to Khrushchev who uses it for nuisance value in his contest with the West.

To Tito, the present situation is wonderful because of its blackmail value. Tito, of course, has assured the West that he is still with them, and the recent state visit of the King of Greece to Tito is a most hopeful sign.

This situation has been complicated by the neutralization of Austria, one of the biggest defeats which the NATO Powers have suffered in Europe. No matter how much apologetic propaganda paints the Austrian neutralization as a success, it was a failure, a bitter failure for American diplomacy. We have been forced to remove our troops to Italy where they are not wanted, and the bridge between Italy and West Germany — which was Austria — has disappeared. It is now a much tougher problem to hold Italy, West Germany and the Balkan Alliance countries together.

What has Soviet Russia really withdrawn from Austria? Actually nothing. Hungary has 12 divisions, Rumania 15, Bulgaria 12 and Albania 3. All that really holds these divisions in check is Tito's army and what we need to know for sure is whether Tito is for us or against us. It is crucial.

Heiress Divorces Psychiatrist Mate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An heiress who said her psychiatrist husband called her "a psychopath" has obtained a divorce. She testified he ground a cigarette in her neck.

Mrs. Antoinette B. Grant, 29, received an interlocutory decree Thursday, saying that Dr. Henry J. Grant, 42, compared her with his worst patients, and said "He couldn't stand to practice psychiatry at home."

Mrs. Grant testified he blacked her eye because she hadn't ironed the shirt he wanted. Then when she finally told him she was going to get a divorce, "he became angry and ground out a cigarette in my neck."

$10 Million Tax Savings Seen By Solon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 10 million dollar annual tax saving through elimination of sales tax stamps has been indicated by Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), chairman of an Ohio Legislative Service Commission Committee studying state finances.

Mechem, senate majority leader, told the first meeting of the tax and revenue study committee yesterday, "I don't think we are here to find new taxes. We should try to find a way to save."

His remark was made in answer to a question from committee member Sen. Fred Danner (R-Summit) who asked whether the group is "going to try to find new sources (of revenue) or going to try to save and reduce taxes."

Mechem 77 said the committee should not be interested in new revenues, but rather "the big waste . . . in the sales tax and its exemptions."

Sen. Stephen R. Olenick (D-Mahoning) agreed, and Rep. Arthur Milleson (D - Harrison) proposed getting "rid of the (sales tax) stamps" to increase revenue.

Printing costs, vendors discounts and cancelled stamp redemption by charitable groups would be done away with by eliminating the stamps, it was brought out. This was the 10 million dollar tax saving Mechem referred to.

Ebright Appointed To Head Group

COLUMBUS (AP)—Appointment of Don Ebright, former state treasurer, as chairman of the Committee for Improved Public Service was announced yesterday.

The committee was formed to support two proposed amendments to the Ohio Constitution that would permit changes in salaries of judges as well as county, township and certain state officials during their terms of office.

Salary increases provided by the last Legislature are available only to newly-elected officials.

Ebright, state treasurer for 12 years and a former Akron city finance director, now is vice president of the Union Bank of Commerce in Cleveland.

City Aides Strike

BUCYRUS (AP)—Bucyrus entered its second day without garbage and rubbish collection, sewage disposal and street work as officials hoped for an end today to a strike by 25 city employes asking for a 15 per cent wage boost.

Ohio, Illinois Chiefs To Parley

COLUMBUS (AP)—Robert L. Moulton, chairman of the Ohio Reciprocity Board, says the group will meet Monday in Springfield, Ill., to discuss Ohio's disputed axle-mile tax with Illinois Secretary of State Charles Carpentier.

Ohio wants motor vehicle reciprocity pacts revised to exclude the state's axle-mile tax. Illinois had been given to next Saturday to agree to the amendment.

Moulton said that by mutual agreement, the deadline with Illinois would be extended through Monday's meeting date.

Insurance Firm Eyes New Computer

COLUMBUS (AP)—Nationwide Insurance Co. plans to start operations next week for an electronic computer linked to its regional offices.

The electronic brain is designed to memorize the firm's rate tables, and quickly provide answers to diffcult billing problems. Officials of Nationwide believe it is the first such computer used by an American insurance firm. They figure it will save them $400,000 yearly.

Rites Booked For Gallipolis Sports Editor

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Services will be held Monday at Cary, Ill., for Gallipolis Tribune sports editor Arnold C. Schuldt, slain by a shotgun blast which police said was fired by his wife.

Mrs. Ruth Schuldt, 30, recently released from a mental institution, was held in Gallia County Jail while authorities debated whether to press charges against her.

Mrs. Schuldt's 34-year-old husband was slain yesterday at her parents' home here after she refused to give him the keys to his car so he could go to work, Sheriff George Ehman said.

Schuldt and his wife had been living apart since shortly after the birth of their son four months ago. Later, she was committed to a West Virginia asylum. She had been living with her parents the past several weeks following her release from the institution. The Schuldts also have three daughters.

Services for Schuldt will be held at St. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church in Cary, where his mother, Mrs. Mayme Schuldt, lives. Burial will be in St. John's Cemetery, Fox River Grove, Ill.

Ferry Skipper Blamed In Inquiry

HAKOKATE, Japan (AP)—A marine court of injury has blamed the dead skipper for the 1954 typhoon sinking of the huge government railways ferry Toya Maru.

A total of 1,172 persons—56 of them Americans—drowned. It was the worst sea disaster since the Titanic sank in 1912 with 1,517 dead.

After seven months of hearings, the Hakodate local marine accidents inquiry agency, a government body, blamed Capt. Heiichi Kondo for putting to sea in a typhoon.

Spartans, Hoosiers Slated To Open Big 10 Grid Card

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State and Indiana open the Big Ten football season Saturday while their league rivals take on traditional or intersectional foes.

The Spartan-Hoosier contest will share Midwest television interest with the Notre Dame - Southern Methodist game. Both games are being televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System. The ND-SMU contest will go on TV at 1 p.m. (CST) and the MSU-Hoosier game at 2:30 p.m.

The Big Ten opener is rated a toss-up between the Spartans and the Hoosiers. Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State will fly to Bloomington, Ind., with his squad today. Meanwhile, Coach Bernie Crimmins of Indiana warned his players that the Spartans "have exceptionally fine speed and a dangerous passing offensive."

Notre Dame is a one touchdown favorite over Southern Methodist's Mustangs. The Irish defeated the Mustangs last year, 26-14.

Illinois is at California for an intersectional contest, the first meeting of the two schools. The Illini rule slight favorites, despite the fact that they are an unknown quantity in the Big Ten race. The Golden Bears made a dismal opening against Pittsburgh last Saturday, losing 27-7.

Northwestern will open its season Saturday against Miami of Ohio, at Evanston. The Wildcats are favored.

Purdue will start against College of the Pacific, with ace passer Leonard Dawson expected to be missing because of an injured thumb.

A new opening game attendance record was forecast for the game between Minnesota and Washington. Minnesota is a two touchdown favorite.

Ohio State will entertain Nebraska's Huskers, who lost to Hawaii last week, 6-0. The Buckeyes are favored to win.

Michigan, leading choice for the Big 10 title, will be host to Missouri in what should be a good contest. Missouri lost to Maryland, 13-12, last week and almost pulled an upset of the highly favored Easterners.

Wisconsin is favored over its traditional opening rival, Marquette, and Iowa is expected to beat Kansas State.

Today Listed As 'The' Day For Yankees

By The Associated Press

This is the day the New York Yankees can clinch the American League pennant and officially reduce the Cleveland Indians to a state of fruitless frustration.

The Yankees, rumbling along on an eight-game winning streak, can claim their sixth banner in seven seasons with a victory in either the day or night portion of a double header at Boston. And they can do it without that if the Indians drop their afternoon game at Detroit.

If the Tribe, losing five of the last six, comes up with another clunker, New York can lose all four of its remaining games and still hang up the bunting in Yankee Stadium for the opening game of the World Series against Brooklyn Wednesday.

Manager Casey Stengel has picked Don Larsen (8-2) to face the Red Sox, who have lost seven in a row, in this afternoon's game. Tommy Byrne (16-4) has the night game assignment. Tom Brewer (11-10) and Willard Nixon (12-9) were the Boston choices.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, still hoping for a miracle, has selected Herb Score (15-10) to face Detroit's Frank Lary (14-14), the rookie who hung one on the Tribe last weekend.

With three games left, Cleveland needs one more victory to clinch the No. 2 spot.

'Carnie' Sentenced

COLUMBUS (AP)—Carnival worker William M. Watson, 22, of Fairmont, W. Va., was sentenced yesterday to 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for shooting with intent to wound a Gahanna cafe owner who attempted to stop him as he fled police last June 28.

Pro Grid TV Rates Claimed 'Too High'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League may be forced to abandon its nationwide Saturday night football telecasts because "the government, through the FCC (Federal Communications Commission), is pricing us out of the Saturday market," NFL Commissioner Bert Bell says.

"The government went to court to force us to televise," Bell observed yesterday. But, he said, the pro league's television program will be curtailed this year because of "excessive charges" for cables by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. under FCC approved rates. Bell said:

"The hitch is this: It costs us four times as much to buy cables for telecasts as it does the networks. We have to pay $1 a mile per hour for cables, while the networks get it anywhere from 13 cents to 40 cents per mile per hour because they buy in volume."

An AT&T spokesman in New York said Bell "is the unfortunate victim of circumstances," explaining that whereas the networks use television channels approximately 360 hours a month, the NFL would use it at most two and a half hours a week.

Bell said he is hopeful that some last minute deal can be worked out to continue the coast-to-coast television games and other long distance regional telecasts.

Rites Booked For Gallipolis Sports Editor

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Services will be held Monday at Cary, Ill., for Gallipolis Tribune sports editor Arnold C. Schuldt, slain by a shotgun blast which police said was fired by his wife.

Mrs. Ruth Schuldt, 30, recently released from a mental institution, was held in Gallia County Jail while authorities debated whether to press charges against her.

Mrs. Schuldt's 34-year-old husband was slain yesterday at her parents' home here after she refused to give him the keys to his car so he could go to work, Sheriff George Ehman said.

Schuldt and his wife had been living apart since shortly after the birth of their son four months ago. Later, she was committed to a West Virginia asylum. She had been living with her parents the past several weeks following her release from the institution. The Schuldts also have three daughters.

Services for Schuldt will be held at St. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church in Cary, where his mother, Mrs. Mayme Schuldt, lives. Burial will be in St. John's Cemetery, Fox River Grove, Ill.

Ferry Skipper Blamed In Inquiry

HAKOKATE, Japan (AP)—A marine court of injury has blamed the dead skipper for the 1954 typhoon sinking of the huge government railways ferry Toya Maru.

A total of 1,172 persons—56 of them Americans—drowned. It was the worst sea disaster since the Titanic sank in 1912 with 1,517 dead.

After seven months of hearings, the Hakodate local marine accidents inquiry agency, a government body, blamed Capt. Heiichi Kondo for putting to sea in a typhoon.

Spartans, Hoosiers Slated To Open Big 10 Grid Card

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State and Indiana open the Big Ten football season Saturday while their league rivals take on traditional or intersectional foes.

The Spartan-Hoosier contest will share Midwest television interest with the Notre Dame - Southern Methodist game. Both games are being televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System. The ND-SMU contest will go on TV at 1 p.m. (CST) and the MSU-Hoosier game at 2:30 p.m.

The Big Ten opener is rated a toss-up between the Spartans and the Hoosiers. Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State will fly to Bloomington, Ind., with his squad today. Meanwhile, Coach Bernie Crimmins of Indiana warned his players that the Spartans "have exceptionally fine speed and a dangerous passing offensive."

Notre Dame is a one touchdown favorite over Southern Methodist's Mustangs. The Irish defeated the Mustangs last year, 26-14.

Illinois is at California for an intersectional contest, the first meeting of the two schools. The Illini rule slight favorites, despite the fact that they are an unknown quantity in the Big Ten race. The Golden Bears made a dismal opening against Pittsburgh last Saturday, losing 27-7.

Northwestern will open its season Saturday against Miami of Ohio, at Evanston. The Wildcats are favored.

Purdue will start against College of the Pacific, with ace passer Leonard Dawson expected to be missing because of an injured thumb.

A new opening game attendance record was forecast for the game between Minnesota and Washington. Minnesota is a two touchdown favorite.

Ohio State will entertain Nebraska's Huskers, who lost to Hawaii last week, 6-0. The Buckeyes are favored to win.

Michigan, leading choice for the Big 10 title, will be host to Missouri in what should be a good contest. Missouri lost to Maryland, 13-12, last week and almost pulled an upset of the highly favored Easterners.

Wisconsin is favored over its traditional opening rival, Marquette, and Iowa is expected to beat Kansas State.

Today Listed As 'The' Day For Yankees

By The Associated Press

This is the day the New York Yankees can clinch the American League pennant and officially reduce the Cleveland Indians to a state of fruitless frustration.

The Yankees, rumbling along on an eight-game winning streak, can claim their sixth banner in seven seasons with a victory in either the day or night portion of a double header at Boston. And they can do it without that if the Indians drop their afternoon game at Detroit.

If the Tribe, losing five of the last six, comes up with another clunker, New York can lose all four of its remaining games and still hang up the bunting in Yankee Stadium for the opening game of the World Series against Brooklyn Wednesday.

Manager Casey Stengel has picked Don Larsen (8-2) to face the Red Sox, who have lost seven in a row, in this afternoon's game. Tommy Byrne (16-4) has the night game assignment. Tom Brewer (11-10) and Willard Nixon (12-9) were the Boston choices.

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, still hoping for a miracle, has selected Herb Score (15-10) to face Detroit's Frank Lary (14-14), the rookie who hung one on the Tribe last weekend.

With three games left, Cleveland needs one more victory to clinch the No. 2 spot.

'Carnie' Sentenced

COLUMBUS (AP)—Carnival worker William M. Watson, 22, of Fairmont, W. Va., was sentenced yesterday to 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary for shooting with intent to wound a Gahanna cafe owner who attempted to stop him as he fled police last June 28.

Pro Grid TV Rates Claimed 'Too High'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League may be forced to abandon its nationwide Saturday night football telecasts because "the government, through the FCC (Federal Communications Commission), is pricing us out of the Saturday market," NFL Commissioner Bert Bell says.

"The government went to court to force us to televise," Bell observed yesterday. But, he said, the pro league's television program will be curtailed this year because of "excessive charges" for cables by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. under FCC approved rates. Bell said:

"The hitch is this: It costs us four times as much to buy cables for telecasts as it does the networks. We have to pay $1 a mile per hour for cables, while the networks get it anywhere from 13 cents to 40 cents per mile per hour because they buy in volume."

An AT&T spokesman in New York said Bell "is the unfortunate victim of circumstances," explaining that whereas the networks use television channels approximately 360 hours a month, the NFL would use it at most two and a half hours a week.

Bell said he is hopeful that some last minute deal can be worked out to continue the coast-to-coast television games and other long distance regional telecasts.

'55 Brown Jug Is Captured By Quick Chief

Dottie's Pick Second In $66,608 Pacing Event At Delaware

DELAWARE (AP) — Quick Chief, absent from the races since Aug. 18 because of lameness, today owned pacing's most coveted trophies, the Little Brown Jug, along with $24,645.24.

The black three-year-old son of Chief Abbedale, owned by the Farmstead Acres of Brookville, N. Y., won the tenth annual $66,608.83 "Jug" over the Delaware County Fairgrounds track here yesterday, defeating 16 of the nation's best sidewheelers.

A bit more than a month ago Quick Chief, driven by Billy Haughton, pulled up lame after winning at Yonkers Raceway, and Haughton laid him up. Then Haughton jogged him in 2:20 and aimed him for the big one. Quick Chief was flown in last weekend, and he practically flew in the race, too, as he negotiated the twice-around in 2:00.1 and 2:00.2 to take the big prize.

Dottie's Pick, bay filly owned by J. E. and E. C. Armstrong of Brampton, Ontario, won her heat in the divided race in 2 minutes flat, a world mark for her sex and age, and then chased Quick Chief to the wire in the payoff heat which she lost by three lengths.

Dottie's Pick and Quick Chief set a world record for three heats divided as their times added up to 6:00.3, far under the record of 6:06.2 set in 1952 by Meadow Rice and Wilmington's Star in the same race.

Quick Chief, the 1954 two-year-old pacer of the year and winter book favorite, boosted his 1955 winnings to $89,603 and his two-year take to $115,770. The Farmstead Acres stable paid $5,500 for him as a yearling.

Dottie's Pick, second in the overall picture, won $13,987 to almost match her $14,083 picked up in 18 previous starts this season.

Pleased as anyone with his share of the big purse was George W. VanCamp of Circleville. His little pacing filly, Cheetah Goose, finished fourth in the second division, was an "also ran" in the final heat.

But the Circleville sulky fan collected almost $2000 for the afternoon's outing. VanCamp had declared earlier in the week that he wanted only that Cheetah Goose would finish "in the money." She did, behind the driving of Eddie Boyer of Washington C. H.

Here's how they split the purse: Quick Chief, $24,645.24; Dottie's Pick, $13,987.84; Meadow Ace, $4995.66; Rapid Chief, $4995.66; Sea Eagle, $4995.65; King Creed, $3996.54; Convair, $2997.41; Knight Chief, $2997.39; Cheetah Goose, $1998.26; Reed's Knight, $999.15.

Here are the summaries of the three heats:

FIRST HEAT

Quick Chief (W. Haughton)	3.80	3.80	3.80
Rapid Chief (W. Smart)		4.80	3.80
Knight Chief (L. Rapone)			9.60

Also started—Sea Eagle, Reeds Knight, Honest Jerry, American Way, Will Romola. Time, 2:00 1-5.

SECOND HEAT

Dotties Pick (D. Miller)	9.80	3.20	3.00
Meadow Ace (A. Cameron)		2.80	2.60
King Creed (L. Huber, Jr.)			9.20

Also started — Cheetah Goose, Convair, Hal O Matic, Acres of Diamonds, Chief Lenawee. Time, 2:00.

FINAL HEAT

Quick Chief (W. Haughton)	3.40	2.40	2.40
Dotties Pick (D. Miller)		2.80	2.80
Sea Eagle (H. Fitzpatrick)			5.20

Also started—Rapid Chief, King Creed, Reeds Knight, Meadow Ace, Knight Chief, Cheetah Goose, Rapid Chief. Time, 2:00 2-5.

Rock Decides To Resume His Fight In June

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano will be back in action next June. The possible opponents include Cuba's Nino Valdes, hulking Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York or Floyd Patterson, the once-beaten Olympic champion of Brooklyn.

The invincible Brockton Blaster, having earned half a million dollars for his ninth-round knockout of Archie Moore in a spectatular brawl Wednesday night, has decided to go after more.

Moore said he wants another crack at Marciano but it is doubtful if the return will be made. Too many people remember what happened to Ezzard Charles in his second fight with Rocky after their thrilling first bout.

The 20 - year - old Patterson doesn't seem a likely choice soon either. The fast-punching youngster is being groomed as a heavyweight threat for 1957.

Baker may be the next choice. Winner of nine straight, including a decision over Valdes, the 28-year-old, 6-3, 210-pounder had been ticketed for a title shot before Moore's clamor and his wins over Valdes and Carl (Bobo) Olson got Archie his chance.

Valdes, another 6-3 husky, zoomed back into the picture by stopping England's Don Cockell in three rounds in London Sept. 13.

Downpour Stalls Women's Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Contestants in the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament hoped for better weather today as play was resumed in the second round of the association's tournament.

Steady rains made the course unplayable yesterday.

A two - inch downpour caught most of the championship flight contestants on the front nine.

However, medalist Mary Ann Downey stayed close to par to move two up over Dale Fleming.

Haas, Wall Lead $43,000 Meet

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Fred Haas Jr. and Art Wall Jr. led the way into the second round of the $43,000 Sponsors Tournament today.

Haas and Wall could do little wrong yesterday as they shot five under par 67s to share an opening round lead in the 72-hole competition which runs through Sunday.

Jackie Burke trailed the top pair with a 69. Six players, including Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Doug Ford, were deadlocked with 70s.

31 Ohio College Grid Teams To See Action This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The big payoff for weeks of work starts rolling in Friday and Saturday as 31 of Ohio's 35 collegiate grid teams see action in a far-flung 22-game program.

Thirteen of the state's squad's exploded the lid off the campaign a week ago, but this time all except Case, Western Reserve, John Carroll and Oberlin will play.

The attractive schedule is headlined by Ohio State's opener against underdog Nebraska, Miami's invasion of Northwestern, and Mid - American Conference frays which send Bowling Green's resurgent Falcons against Kent State, and Ohio University against Marshall.

Of the 22 games, 13 are interstate events with teams invading Ohio from Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Kentucky and New York. Buckeye teams will travel to Michigan, West Virginia, Illinois, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

One of the Saturday standouts sends Ashland's Eagles, winners of seven straight a year ago, against Kenyon's Lords at Gambier — a club which failed to win in seven starts in 1954. Ashland, 14-0 victor over Earlham in last week's opener, had the state's best defensive mark last season, allowing only 28 points, while Kenyon scored only 6 points in providing the most futile attack. Kenyon was the only club in the state which failed to win last season, while Ashland was the only Buckeye team, with the exception of national champion Ohio State, to go unbeaten and untied.

Ohio Northern (1-7 last year) invades Capital (6-2) for another interesting clash. The Polar Bears, members of the Mid-Ohio League, will use the unlimited substitution plan permitted by that circuit, while Capital will be bound by the restricted NCAA rules under which the Ohio Conference operates.

Ohio teams broke even in last week's seven interstate games, Toledo tying Eastern Kentucky 6-6, and the other half-dozen contests being split although the Buckeyes had a 13 to 91 scoring edge.

Miami's Redskins, who have outscored the foe 621 to 134 the last two seasons in losing only two of 18, will be gunning for their sec-Big Ten foe for Coach Ara Parseghian. Last season the Oxford powerhouse surprised everyone but the youthful coach with a 6 to 0 victory over Indiana. Lou Saban, former captain of the Cleveland Browns, is the new coach at Northwestern, and the Redskins could make his debut a tough one.

The weekend schedule, with the 1954 won-lost records of the Ohio teams:

Friday: Bowling Green (2-7) vs Kent State (8-1) (n); Toledo (6-2-1) vs U. of Detroit.

Saturday: Nebraska vs Ohio State (10-0); Ohio U. (6-3) vs Marshall (n); Marietta (4-3-1) vs Muskingum (6-2-1) at Zanesville (n); Akron (3-5) vs Wittenberg (4-5) (n); Mount Union (2-7) vs Otterbein (2-6); Findlay (3-5) vs Cincinnati (8-2) n); Defiance (4-4) vs Adrian (n); Miami 8-1) vs Northwestern; Louisville vs Xavier (2-8); Central State (4-4) vs Morgan State; Ashland (7-0) vs Kenyon (0-6); Hiram (2-4-1) vs Bluffton 4-4); Wooster (6-3) vs Allegheny; Ohio Northern (1-7) vs Capital (6-2); Heidelbert (7-1-1) vs Hope; Youngstown (7-2) vs Great Lakes; Washington and Jefferson vs Denison (6-2-1); and Rochester vs Ohio Wesleyan (7-2).

Brooklyn Manager Uncertain About Third Base Starter

NEW YORK (AP) —Walter Alston may have to sweat out a pitching problem or two before the start of the World Series next week. But when it comes to his infield, the Brooklyn manager has little to worry about.

Alston only is uncertain about third base where he has to choose between Jackie Robinson, the veteran and Don Hoak, the youngster. Robinson probably will get the nod.

Otherwise, the Dodgers' infield is a solid one. Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges, alone, appear to give the Brooks' inner defense the edge over the New York Yankees. And should Cleveland by some minor miracle qualify for baseball's big show, its infield doesn't figure to measure up to the Dodgers.

Reese, 36 years old, is batting .281. Hodges, the husky first baseman, is hitting .291 with 27 homers and 102 runs batted in.

Don Zimmer, at second base, is a little guy who hits a long ball. Hoak, Robinson, Reese and Zimmer are fast. Hodges can move for a big man. All are good fielders.

The Yankees probably will go with an infield of Joe Collins, Billy Martin, Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald.

For the Indians, Al Rosen may play third base against righthanded pitchers and Al Smith against lefties with Rosen moving to first base against southpaws.

Let's compare the Dodgers and the American League contenders position-by-position:

First base — Hodges over Collins and Ferris Fain. Hodges' power is the difference here. Bill Skowron, who may get the nod against lefties, hits for distance but he's been in a month - old slump.

Second base — A tossup. Martin the hero of the Yankees' victory over Brooklyn in 1953, showed lots of spark but not much else since he went on leave from the army. Avila's had a disappointing year. Zimmer probably is the best fielder.

Shortstop — Reese over Rizzuto and George Strickland.

Third base — McDougald and Rosen over Robinson or Hoak. McDougald is an excellent glove man, but hits in streaks. Rosen's has a bad year, but so has Robinson. Hoak is untested under fire.

Yankees Scheduled For Tilts In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—The New York Yankees will play five popular Japanese professional baseball teams and picked teams from 14 other Japanese clubs in their October-November tour of Japan, the Mainichi newspapers report.

The Yankees are expected Oct. 20. They will play 17 games before they leave for Okinawa and Manila Nov. 16.

Dane To Tangle With Tiger Jones

CLEVELAND (AP) —Middleweight Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., tanges with a Danish import, Chris Christensen, tonight at 9 p. m. EST in a 10-rounder.

Cleveland's Rocky Castellani had been slated to meet Jones in tonight's bout, but a death in the family brought about Castellani's withdrawal. The two will meet next month, Jones said, if he defeats Christensen.

Apology Made For Slur On Ashville Team

In a story in The Herald dealing largely with the Ashville high school football team, unjustified criticism was hurled at the Broncos. Team members were accused of deliberate clipping and illegal use of hands, infringement of contest rules that were not seen by competent officials and apparently by no one except a "crusading" cub reporter, who earlier in the story had admitted he was "apparently affected by the heat or something." That he was affected by something is freely admitted by Tom Wilson, publisher of The Herald.

Ashville for many years has presented outstanding athletic teams in the Pickaway county circuit. The teams have been composed, and still are made up, of clean and fine contestants.

The slur on the sportsmanship of the Ashville football players was unjustified in all respects and apparently was injected into the story for the single purpose of sensationalism. The Herald gladly and freely apologizes not only to the Broncos and coaching staff, but to the community as well.

Hirsch Returns To Rams Roster

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Ram Coach Sid Gillman says he's happy to have pass-grabbing end Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch back.

"I get paid to win games and Hirsch will help us do that," Gillman said after the Rams announced yesterday that Hirsch is giving up retirement plans.

A Ram spokesman said the former college star will sign a contract later this week. The amount was not disclosed and the spokesman said Hirsch will continue his television program.

Dottie's Pick, bay filly owned by J. E. and E. C. Armstrong of Brampton, Ontario, won her heat in the divided race in 2 minutes flat, a world mark for her sex and age, and then chased Quick Chief to the wire in the payoff heat which she lost by three lengths.

Dottie's Pick and Quick Chief set a world record for three heats divided as their times added up to 6:00.3, far under the record of 6:06.2 set in 1952 by Meadow Rice and Wilmington's Star in the same race.

Quick Chief, the 1954 two-year-old pacer of the year and winter book favorite, boosted his 1955 winnings to $89,603 and his two-year take to $115,770. The Farmstead Acres stable paid $5,500 for him as a yearling.

Dottie's Pick, second in the overall picture, won $13,987 to almost match her $14,083 picked up in 18 previous starts this season.

Pleased as anyone with his share of the big purse was George W. VanCamp of Circleville. His little pacing filly, Cheetah Goose, finished fourth in the second division, was an "also ran" in the final heat.

But the Circleville sulky fan collected almost $2000 for the afternoon's outing. VanCamp had declared earlier in the week that he wanted only that Cheetah Goose would finish "in the money." She did, behind the driving of Eddie Boyer of Washington C. H.

Here's how they split the purse: Quick Chief, $24,645.24; Dottie's Pick, $13,987.84; Meadow Ace, $4995.66; Rapid Chief, $4995.66; Sea Eagle, $4995.65; King Creed, $3996.54; Convair, $2997.41; Knight Chief, $2997.39; Cheetah Goose, $1998.26; Reed's Knight, $999.15.

Here are the summaries of the three heats:

FIRST HEAT

Quick Chief (W. Haughton)	3.80	3.80	3.80
Rapid Chief (W. Smart)		4.80	3.80
Knight Chief (L. Rapone)			9.60

Also started—Sea Eagle, Reeds Knight, Honest Jerry, American Way, Will Romola. Time, 2:00 1-5.

SECOND HEAT

Dotties Pick (D. Miller)	9.80	3.20	3.00
Meadow Ace (A. Cameron)		2.80	2.60
King Creed (L. Huber, Jr.)			9.20

Also started — Cheetah Goose, Convair, Hal O Matic, Acres of Diamonds, Chief Lenawee. Time, 2:00.

FINAL HEAT

Quick Chief (W. Haughton)	3.40	2.40	2.40
Dotties Pick (D. Miller)		2.80	2.80
Sea Eagle (H. Fitzpatrick)			5.20

Also started—Rapid Chief, King Creed, Reeds Knight, Meadow Ace, Knight Chief, Cheetah Goose, Rapid Chief. Time, 2:00 2-5.

Haas, Wall Lead $43,000 Meet

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Fred Haas Jr. and Art Wall Jr. led the way into the second round of the $43,000 Sponsors Tournament today.

Haas and Wall could do little wrong yesterday as they shot five under par 67s to share an opening round lead in the 72-hole competition which runs through Sunday.

Jackie Burke trailed the top pair with a 69. Six players, including Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Doug Ford, were deadlocked with 70s.

Rock Decides To Resume His Fight In June

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano will be back in action next June. The possible opponents include Cuba's Nino Valdes, hulking Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York or Floyd Patterson, the once-beaten Olympic champion of Brooklyn.

The invincible Brockton Blaster, having earned half a million dollars for his ninth-round knockout of Archie Moore in a spectatular brawl Wednesday night, has decided to go after more.

Moore said he wants another crack at Marciano but it is doubtful if the return will be made. Too many people remember what happened to Ezzard Charles in his second fight with Rocky after their thrilling first bout.

The 20 - year - old Patterson doesn't seem a likely choice soon either. The fast-punching youngster is being groomed as a heavyweight threat for 1957.

Baker may be the next choice. Winner of nine straight, including a decision over Valdes, the 28-year-old, 6-3, 210-pounder had been ticketed for a title shot before Moore's clamor and his wins over Valdes and Carl (Bobo) Olson got Archie his chance.

Valdes, another 6-3 husky, zoomed back into the picture by stopping England's Don Cockell in three rounds in London Sept. 13.

Downpour Stalls Women's Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Contestants in the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament hoped for better weather today as play was resumed in the second round of the association's tournament.

Steady rains made the course unplayable yesterday.

A two - inch downpour caught most of the championship flight contestants on the front nine.

However, medalist Mary Ann Downey stayed close to par to move two up over Dale Fleming.

31 Ohio College Grid Teams To See Action This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The big payoff for weeks of work starts rolling in Friday and Saturday as 31 of Ohio's 35 collegiate grid teams see action in a far-flung 22-game program.

Thirteen of the state's squad's exploded the lid off the campaign a week ago, but this time all except Case, Western Reserve, John Carroll and Oberlin will play.

The attractive schedule is headlined by Ohio State's opener against underdog Nebraska, Miami's invasion of Northwestern, and Mid - American Conference frays which send Bowling Green's resurgent Falcons against Kent State, and Ohio University against Marshall.

Of the 22 games, 13 are interstate events with teams invading Ohio from Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Kentucky and New York. Buckeye teams will travel to Michigan, West Virginia, Illinois, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

One of the Saturday standouts sends Ashland's Eagles, winners of seven straight a year ago, against Kenyon's Lords at Gambier — a club which failed to win in seven starts in 1954. Ashland, 14-0 victor over Earlham in last week's opener, had the state's best defensive mark last season, allowing only 28 points, while Kenyon scored only 6 points in providing the most futile attack. Kenyon was the only club in the state which failed to win last season, while Ashland was the only Buckeye team, with the exception of national champion Ohio State, to go unbeaten and untied.

Ohio Northern (1-7 last year) invades Capital (6-2) for another interesting clash. The Polar Bears, members of the Mid-Ohio League, will use the unlimited substitution plan permitted by that circuit, while Capital will be bound by the restricted NCAA rules under which the Ohio Conference operates.

Ohio teams broke even in last week's seven interstate games, Toledo tying Eastern Kentucky 6-6, and the other half-dozen contests being split although the Buckeyes had a 13 to 91 scoring edge.

Miami's Redskins, who have outscored the foe 621 to 134 the last two seasons in losing only two of 18, will be gunning for their sec- Big Ten foe for Coach Ara Parseghian. Last season the Oxford powerhouse surprised everyone but the youthful coach with a 6 to 0 victory over Indiana. Lou Saban, former captain of the Cleveland Browns, is the new coach at Northwestern, and the Redskins could make his debut a tough one.

The weekend schedule, with the 1954 won-lost records of the Ohio teams:

Friday: Bowling Green (2-7) vs Kent State (8-1) (n); Toledo (6-2-1) vs U. of Detroit.

Saturday: Nebraska vs Ohio State (10-0); Ohio U. (6-3) vs Marshall (n); Marietta (4-3-1) vs Muskingum (6-2-1) at Zanesville (n); Akron (3-5) vs Wittenberg (4-5) (n); Mount Union (2-7) vs Otterbein (2-6); Findlay (3-5) vs Cincinnati (8-2) n); Defiance (4-4) vs Adrian (n); Miami 8-1) vs Northwestern; Louisville vs Xavier (2-8); Central State (4-4) vs Morgan State; Ashland (7-0) vs Kenyon (0-6); Hiram (2-4-1) vs Bluffton 4-4); Wooster (6-3) vs Allegheny; Ohio Northern (1-7) vs Capital (6-2); Heidelbert (7-1-1) vs Hope; Youngstown (7-2) vs Great Lakes; Washington and Jefferson vs Denison (6-2-1); and Rochester vs Ohio Wesleyan (7-2).

Brooklyn Manager Uncertain About Third Base Starter

NEW YORK (AP) —Walter Alston may have to sweat out a pitching problem or two before the start of the World Series next week. But when it comes to his infield, the Brooklyn manager has little to worry about.

Alston only is uncertain about third base where he has to choose between Jackie Robinson, the veteran and Don Hoak, the youngster. Robinson probably will get the nod.

Otherwise, the Dodgers' infield is a solid one. Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges, alone, appear to give the Brooks' inner defense the edge over the New York Yankees. And should Cleveland by some minor miracle qualify for baseball's big show, its infield doesn't figure to measure up to the Dodgers.

Reese, 36 years old, is batting .281. Hodges, the husky first baseman, is hitting .291 with 27 homers and 102 runs batted in.

Don Zimmer, at second base, is a little guy who hits a long ball. Hoak, Robinson, Reese and Zimmer are fast. Hodges can move for a big man. All are good fielders.

The Yankees probably will go with an infield of Joe Collins, Billy Martin, Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald.

For the Indians, Al Rosen may play third base against righthanded pitchers and Al Smith against lefties with Rosen moving to first base against southpaws.

Let's compare the Dodgers and the American League contenders position-by-position:

First base — Hodges over Collins and Ferris Fain. Hodges' power is the difference here. Bill Skowron, who may get the nod against lefties, hits for distance but he's been in a month - old slump.

Second base — A tossup. Martin the hero of the Yankees' victory over Brooklyn in 1953, showed lots of spark but not much else since he went on leave from the army. Avila's had a disappointing year. Zimmer probably is the best fielder.

Shortstop — Reese over Rizzuto and George Strickland.

Third base — McDougald and Rosen over Robinson or Hoak. McDougald is an excellent glove man, but hits in streaks. Rosen's has a bad year, but so has Robinson. Hoak is untested under fire.

Yankees Scheduled For Tilts In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—The New York Yankees will play five popular Japanese professional baseball teams and picked teams from 14 other Japanese clubs in their October-November tour of Japan, the Mainichi newspapers report.

The Yankees are expected Oct. 20. They will play 17 games before they leave for Okinawa and Manila Nov. 16.

Dane To Tangle With Tiger Jones

CLEVELAND (AP) —Middleweight Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., tanges with a Danish import, Chris Christensen, tonight at 9 p. m. EST in a 10-rounder.

Cleveland's Rocky Castellani had been slated to meet Jones in tonight's bout, but a death in the family brought about Castellani's withdrawal. The two will meet next month, Jones said, if he defeats Christensen.

Apology Made For Slur On Ashville Team

In a story in The Herald dealing largely with the Ashville high school football team, unjustified criticism was hurled at the Broncos. Team members were accused of deliberate clipping and illegal use of hands, infringement of contest rules that were not seen by competent officials and apparently by no one except a "crusading" cub reporter, who earlier in the story had admitted he was "apparently affected by the heat or something." That he was affected by something is freely admitted by Tom Wilson, publisher of The Herald.

Ashville for many years has presented outstanding athletic teams in the Pickaway county circuit. The teams have been composed, and still are made up, of clean and fine contestants.

The slur on the sportsmanship of the Ashville football players was unjustified in all respects and apparently was injected into the story for the single purpose of sensationalism. The Herald gladly and freely apologizes not only to the Broncos and coaching staff, but to the community as well.

Hirsch Returns To Rams Roster

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Ram Coach Sid Gillman says he's happy to have pass-grabbing end Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch back.

"I get paid to win games and Hirsch will help us do that," Gillman said after the Rams announced yesterday that Hirsch is giving up retirement plans.

A Ram spokesman said the former college star will sign a contract later this week. The amount was not disclosed and the spokesman said Hirsch will continue his television program.

Ohio's Weekend Fishing Prospects Reported 'Fair'

COLUMBUS (AP) — A fair fishing outlook for most of the state is forecast for this weekend by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

The outlook:

Northwestern: Most streams clear but low, fishing pressure light. St. Marys and Oxbow Lakes normal fishing condition with crappies, catfish and bluegills taken.

Southeastern: Lakes and streams in poor fishing condition, fishing pressure light. Piedmont Lake in Belmont County and Forked Run Lake in Meigs County clear and normal, but few fish taken.

Central and southern: Most streams clear but low. Scioto, Blacklick Creek, Alum Creek, Hoover Reservoir and Big Walnut creek in clear condition with outlook good. Good catches of bass and catfish reported at reservoir.

Southwestern: Streams clear and low. Trout still taken in Champaign County.

Ohio's Weekend Fishing Prospects Reported 'Fair'

COLUMBUS (AP) — A fair fishing outlook for most of the state is forecast for this weekend by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

The outlook:

Northwestern: Most streams clear but low, fishing pressure light. St. Marys and Oxbow Lakes normal fishing condition with crappies, catfish and bluegills taken.

Southeastern: Lakes and streams in poor fishing condition, fishing pressure light. Piedmont Lake in Belmont County and Forked Run Lake in Meigs County clear and normal, but few fish taken.

Central and southern: Most streams clear but low. Scioto, Blacklick Creek, Alum Creek, Hoover Reservoir and Big Walnut creek in clear condition with outlook good. Good catches of bass and catfish reported at reservoir.

Southwestern: Streams clear and low. Trout still taken in Champaign County.

CHS Takes On Linden McKinley; Six-Man Football In 2nd Round

A rousing weekend of football is in store for Pickaway Countians.

Tonight, Circleville High School's Tigers play host to the powerful Panthers from Columbus Linden McKinley. Indications are that the weather will clear up by kickoff time at 8 p. m.

Saturday night at the Fairgrounds, six-man football goes into its second round of play. Highlight of the evening will be the struggle between what are probably the two top teams—Ashville and Pickaway.

Circleville, which looks much stronger this year, will try to make it two in a row over a tough Linden eleven. Last Friday night, CHS blanked Athens 19 to 0. Linden overpowered Washington C. H. 25 to 7.

* * *

THE DAMPNESS may be a help to CHS because they rely mostly on a power-running ground game. The split T formation coach Steve Brudzinski introduced here this year seems to be working out for the Tigers.

Brudzinski is still experimenting with several positions. Fans may see a number of interesting surprizes in tonight's encounter.

Linden, on the other hand, played a much better game than the score or statistics revealed, according to scouting reports from Circleville coaches. The Panthers may not be the top team they were last year but they still pack plenty of power, the reports state.

Many fans feel tonight's game may hold the key to the Tigers' future this season. The general opinion is that if CHS can get by Linden in any kind of impressive style they may prove to be pretty tough this year.

However, Linden will enter the game as the favorite by possibly as much as two touchdowns, according to Columbus reports. But then, Athens was supposed to beat the Tigers last week.

* * *

TURNING to six-man football, here is the way it shapes up:

Darby vs. Jackson—Darby's Trojans, starting their first season of six-man football, were submerged by Ashville 42 to 6 last week while Jackson blanked Williamsport 34 to 0. Jackson may be the "sleeper" team of the league and should enter the contest at least a four touchdown favorite.

Pickaway vs. Ashville—both of these teams won last week and this should be one of the best games of the year. Although Pickaway's Pirates have power, Ashville has finesse, ability and almost unlimited depth and should win by at least two touchdowns.

Stoutsville vs. William sport—Stoutsville did not play last week and the Deers were blanked by a strong Jackson team. The Williamsport coach had only eight days to get his boys in shape for the game and they were very disorganized. The Deers may need another week or two to get going so they will probably take it on the chin again.

Kickoff time at the Fairgrounds is 6:30 p. m.

CHS Takes On Linden McKinley; Six-Man Football In 2nd Round

A rousing weekend of football is in store for Pickaway Countians.

Tonight, Circleville High School's Tigers play host to the powerful Panthers from Columbus Linden McKinley. Indications are that the weather will clear up by kickoff time at 8 p. m.

Saturday night at the Fairgrounds, six-man football goes into its second round of play. Highlight of the evening will be the struggle between what are probably the two top teams—Ashville and Pickaway.

Circleville, which looks much stronger this year, will try to make it two in a row over a tough Linden eleven. Last Friday night, CHS blanked Athens 19 to 0. Linden overpowered Washington C. H. 25 to 7.

* * *

THE DAMPNESS may be a help to CHS because they rely mostly on a power-running ground game. The split T formation coach Steve Brudzinski introduced here this year seems to be working out for the Tigers.

Brudzinski is still experimenting with several positions. Fans may see a number of interesting surprizes in tonight's encounter.

Linden, on the other hand, played a much better game than the score or statistics revealed, according to scouting reports from Circleville coaches. The Panthers may not be the top team they were last year but they still pack plenty of power, the reports state.

Many fans feel tonight's game may hold the key to the Tigers' future this season. The general opinion is that if CHS can get by Linden in any kind of impressive style they may prove to be pretty tough this year.

However, Linden will enter the game as the favorite by possibly as much as two touchdowns, according to Columbus reports. But then, Athens was supposed to beat the Tigers last week.

* * *

TURNING to six-man football, here is the way it shapes up:

Darby vs. Jackson—Darby's Trojans, starting their first season of six-man football, were submerged by Ashville 42 to 6 last week while Jackson blanked Williamsport 34 to 0. Jackson may be the "sleeper" team of the league and should enter the contest at least a four touchdown favorite.

Pickaway vs. Ashville—both of these teams won last week and this should be one of the best games of the year. Although Pickaway's Pirates have power, Ashville has finesse, ability and almost unlimited depth and should win by at least two touchdowns.

Stoutsville vs. Williamsport—Stoutsville did not play last week and the Deers were blanked by a strong Jackson team. The Williamsport coach had only eight days to get his boys in shape for the game and they were very disorganized. The Deers may need another week or two to get going so they will probably take it on the chin again.

Kickoff time at the Fairgrounds is 6:30 p. m.
